Collector sometimes doesn't pay what he collects

NICHOLAS G. BYRON
STATE'S ATTORNEY
MADISON COUNTY
103 PUELL STREET, 3RD FLOOR
EDWARDSVILLE, ILLINOIS 62025

November 29, 1977

Dear Mr. Maupin:
Please be advised that Collins Employees Credit Union has registered a complaint against you in the matter of a mobile home. A copy of that letter is attached.

It is our desire to avoid the complication of criminal proceedings in disputes of this nature. We therefore anticipate a resolution of the situation.

If you desire to contribute information to our office for consideration in your case, please contact me at 692-4550.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph R. Brown, Jr.
Assistant State's Attorney

A man Granite City aldermen are considering utilizing to collect overdue ambulance bills in the city has been sued twice for alleged failure to remit funds he has collected. Judgments against him have been entered by the court in both cases, documents in the Madison County Circuit Court show.

Madison already has decided to use the Illinois Repossession and Collection Agency to collect overdue ambulance bills from Madison residents, Granite City Councilmen are to meet with W.C. "Bill" Maupin, who operates the business from his home, to consider whether Granite City should hire him.

Court records indicate that Maupin, as manager of Tri-City Auto Recovery, was sued Jan. 2, 1976, for alleged failure to remit about $500 to the United Missouri Bank of Ferguson after repossessing an auto for them.

Subsequently, he was sued for selling a mobile home for a credit union and allegedly failing to remit $3,349 to the credit union, county records show. The second suit was filed after the office of Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron threatened to prosecute Maupin if money from the mobile home sale was not sent to the credit union.

Assistant State's Attorney Joe Brown wrote Maupin Nov. 29, 1977, explaining that the state's attorney's office had been contacted by Collins Employees' Credit Union of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, seeking help in collecting money from W.C. Maupin as manager of Tri-City Auto Recovery.

to sell it and remit the money to the credit union.

It is alleged that Maupin sold the mobile home Dec. 12, 1976, for $3,549 and was to send $3,349 to the credit union, keeping $200 for his commission, according to the lawsuit which followed.

In the letter, Brown stated, "It is our desire to avoid the complication of criminal proceedings in disputes of this nature. We therefore anticipate a resolution of the situation."

According to Charles R. Fatka, installment loan officer for the Collins Employees Credit Union, the state's attorney's office decided not to pursue the matter beyond the letter, so the credit union executed a surety bond it had with the Cumis Insurance Society, Inc., and Cumis had to pay the credit union for the mobile home.

Cumis subsequently hired an attorney who filed a lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court June 14, 1978, against Maupin.

The case, titled 78-LM-474, ended with a judgment for the full amount of $3,349. The file shows, but attorneys for both sides agreed to allow Maupin to pay $100 per month for 20 months, or $2,000, according to Fatka. Those payments are continuing, if the timetable is being met.

Fatka said the Collins Employees' Credit Union hired Maupin on the recommendation of the Granite City Steel Employees' Credit Union.

He was used once by Collins to try and recover an automobile, but was unsuccessful, since the purchaser declared bankruptcy, according to Fatka.

The second time the Cedar Rapids group used Maupin was for the mobile home sale, he said. When no money was received, Fatka checked with the state of Illinois to determine if Maupin was bonded.

"We could find no bond for him. If we had known he was not bonded, we would not have used him. Since we could not recover our loss through his bond, we had to execute our own bond," Fatka stated.

Maupin's letters to Madison and Granite City officials, seeking ambulance collection work, use the name of an officer at the Granite City Steel Credit Union as a reference.

The first time Maupin was sued in Madison County Circuit Court was on Jan. 2, 1976, when an attorney for the United Bank of Ferguson, Mo., filed small claims suit 76-ESC-2 against Maupin, doing business as Tri-City Auto Recovery.

The suit alleged that Maupin recovered a car for them and sold it for $538, of which he was to keep $38. After numerous attempts to contact him by telephone and letter, the bank sued and won a judgement of $448, plus court costs, the file shows.

Maupin, who formerly resided in Collinsville, now lists an address of 3116 Yale, Granite City, on his Illinois Repossession and Collection Agency business stationery. The address is in a residential neighborhood where businesses are prohibited, according to city officials.

The letter to Granite City and Madison officials in seeking to collect the overdue bills for the Granite City Ambulance Service states, "We have been in this line of work for the past 39 years."

No listings for the Illinois firm could be found in either the telephone directory or the Polk directory of the Quad-City area.

Funds called ample to end tax on food

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record
Predictions that the state can afford to eliminate the sales tax on food and prescription medication—and will—were made by state officials during a "stop-in" this "area" yesterday morning.

State Sen. Richard Daley (Chicago), chairman of the Sales Tax Override Proposition (STOP), Illinois Speaker of the House of Representatives William Redmond, State Comptroller Roland Burris, Democrats, and State Rep. Cal Skinner (Crystal Lake), Republican, held a press conference in front of an East St. Louis grocery store to drum up support for an attempt to be made next week to override Gov. Jim Thompson's veto of legislation to eliminate the state sales tax on food and medication.

Redmond contended, "If the override vote was by secret ballot, we would have 177 votes in the House (unanimous support). The only votes against will be out of fear of some sort of retribution. It (eliminating the sales tax) is the only moral thing to do."

He added, "I think the override is going to carry, if I had to call it now. Cook County area Republicans are voting for it, as well as downstate Democrats."

Daley said he expects the override to succeed, despite what he calls "black-mail" tactics. "To date, the governor has threatened almost every significant people-oriented program with extinction, if we override his veto."

"Among the threats he has issued are: no funding for in-home health care for senior citizens, reduced state assistance to units of local governments, drastic cuts in social services to the handicapped and other individuals in need, threatened teachers with reduced state funding for education; 'Threatened labor organizations that represent state workers with reduced salary increases, and threatened the poor with reductions in welfare cost-of-living increases, as well as the closure of Cook County Hospital."

"The state can afford to remove the burden imposed by the sales tax on food and medicine, and the state can afford to continue and expand its people-oriented programs," Daley stated.

Rep. Skinner displayed a chart showing a predicted increase in state revenues over the next five years from sources other than the sales tax on food and medicine. The chart estimated income to the state will have risen $7.9 billion by the fifth year.

"With growth increasing the state's revenues by $7.9 billion, the $1.4 billion lost in sales taxes on food and medication would still leave the state $6.2 billion more per year five years from now than," Skinner asserted.

Burris said he feels the governor's "threats" to cut social programs will not come true if the veto is overridden: (Continued on Page 4)

TAX OVERRIDE LEADERS stand in front of a grocery "sooper cost cutters" sign as they urge an override of Governor Jim Thompson's veto of a bill which would end the state sales tax on food and medicine. The governor favors a 20% reduction of the tax. The four were in East St. Louis as part of a five-city "whirlwind" tour yesterday to build support for an override vote next week. The chart displayed shows five-year anticipated growth in the state's general funds; said to more than offset any loss from the sales tax. Richard Daley (D-Chicago), chairman of the Sales Tax Override Proposition (STOP) campaign; and Roland Burris, comptroller of the state. (Press-Record Photo by Gary Schneider)

Varied resources at university cited

Prospective students taking part in Preview Day activities during the weekend at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were promised a wide range of resources for "human and personal enrichment." Acting President Earl Lazerson, in a welcome address in the University Center, said:

"My experience through many years here is that SIUE is a good place to study, to learn, and to heighten the human pleasure you can take in developing your life."

"I pledge to you that I'll do all I can to make things even better for you as we work together. We want you to stay with us for as long as you feel that the university is contributing to the fullness of your maturity as a person and as a citizen."

Pointing to the university's presence in the area for more than 20 years, Lazerson said SIUE has developed a "growth" that have brought about major improvements both in the essential quality of the lives of people in this area and in the substantial enhancement of the potential of the region for even further opportunities and successes.

The local university's chief administrator urged the campus visitors to approach the future with hope and optimism, warning that "a gloomy attitude at the outset is a sure sign of ultimate failure." But he cautioned that "success doesn't simply come as a matter of course, no matter how brilliant or talented you might be."

Lazerson emphasized, "Success is forged and tempered by hard work, dedication and commitment."

Including parents and friends in his message of welcome, Lazerson said their support is essential. "If you do not bring your abiding interest and concern to the educational process of those who will be depending on you, the best we might achieve will be badly compromised," the acting president said.

Lazerson said the university is seeking to attract the highest possible level of student.

Citing Presidential Scholars and other students with exceptional records of achievement, he said, "They have in common, records of excellent past performance, along with a commitment to pursue their studies at the higher level."

"I leave you with the hope that this commitment will be contagious to all who opt for SIUE as the place to pursue their studies at the higher level."

The president added, "It cannot be that everyone will achieve at the highest possible level, but we do expect that you will give the best of what you have within you. For our part, we will do the best we can to assist you in attaining your goals."

Campus visitors were given tours of campus buildings and academic departments before returning to the University Center for lunch, where they were entertained by dancers from the Performing Arts Training Center.

In the afternoon, presentations were scheduled by the Office of Admissions and Records, Student Work and Financial Assistance, General Studies and the Academic Resource Center, University Housing, and the Office of Student Affairs.

Nameoki OKs convention costs while opposition remains silent

Despite a petition drive intended to reduce the number of persons Nameoki Township would send to the annual township officials convention in Peoria the end of this month, the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees voted Tuesday night to send all officials.

The board previously approved $3,500 for the budget for the convention, but a citizens' drive, spearheaded by Mrs. Helen Hawkins, was undertaken to urge the board to send fewer officials and use the majority of the money for needed township programs. Mrs. Hawkins did not attend the board's Tuesday night meeting and no one spoke against the convention or presented petitions to the board.

Indicating he had expected some opposition to the convention, Trustee W. Lee Adams showed a one and one-half page written statement he planned to read. However, he said simply that the convention is sponsored by the Department of Local Government Affairs and is worthwhile. "They do have a lot of seminars going and we do not all go to the same seminars," he said.

The board approved sending Supervisor Harold Davis, Town Clerk Douglas

Teeter, Highway Commissioner Frank Mehlke, Assessor Carl Macios, Collector Freida Ballew and the trustees to the convention Oct. 31 to Nov. 3, in Peoria with expenses of $350 each.

A letter to Supervisor Harold Davis from the Illinois Department of Transportation was read in which the township was given permission to construct sidewalks along Maryville Road from the Maryville School area to Granite City High School North, if specifications for the sidewalks receive state approval and the township agrees to maintain the sidewalks.

George Gruenfelder was the successful bidder on purchasing two old township trucks at a total price of $110.

A list was made available to the public reflecting the current status of 18 parcels of land in the township about which complaints of dilapidated buildings, high weeds and other problems have been received.

The list shows what work is being done on each. Many are involved in court action, according to the list.

"thoughtfulness, always"

McMillan

Illinois while working in Urbana.

McMillan holds a Class One license in the operation of domestic treatment facilities and a Class Seven license in industrial treatment. Both are the highest class licenses issued by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

He sees the Granite City plant as a new challenge and a facility with problems, but he added, "solvable problems."

Improvement of various buildings on the grounds and preparing of the plant for the winter months are two of the short-range goals he has set.

"We have a great maintenance department with a cooperative staff. That is very important at a facility of this nature."

"Preventive maintenance is important to cut down on regular maintenance costs and to preserve the equipment for the years ahead."

He said that he is also pleased with the city government and the cooperation he is getting from the various departments.

"The facility here in Granite City is one of the most modern and efficient treatment plants in the state. It is similar in size to the plant in Urbana, but that plant is antiquated compared to this modern facility."

"Of course, there are several problems which are presently being dealt with to minimize waste spending and to make the plant work for us, not against us."

"The biggest difference in the two plants is the type of sewage that is handled."

"In the urbana area there are food processing plants which feed that treatment plant with mostly organic waste. There is virtually no heavy industry, which minimizes metal-heavy sewage."

On the other hand, the Granite City plant receive a vast majority of metal-base sewage due to the heavy industry using the system, but little are no organic sewage. That is an obstacle we must contend with," McMillan comments.

He said the local plant is meeting all IEPA requirements for such a facility, and adds that the plant is presently running at better than 90 percent efficiency.

Food tax

"This bill is the best thing to come out of the General Assembly in years. The veto is not understandable."

"The governor's estimates were $260 million off at the end of the fiscal year. A $260 million surplus, and now he says we can't afford to cut the sales tax."

"The 1980 fiscal year budget has already been put together. He can't cut that. He can't cut the programs already budgeted," the state comptroller said.

Daley said, "Here is a significant measure that affects every senior citizen, every pensioner, the unemployed, the sick and everyone who has a family."

Redmond added, "Inflation is in the forefront of the minds of the people. The costs of energy, housing and food are leading the increases. There is not much the state can do to curb housing or energy prices, but this is a way the state of Illinois can make a contribution to curbing inflation."

Reminders were plentiful that Governor Thompson campaigned on a tax-cutting platform and has consistently tried to show himself as a supporter of tax cuts.

Daley contended voters have been "hoodwinked" by the governor. "One million, six hundred thousand people voted for the Thompson Tax-Limit Proposition and almost exactly the same number voted for Thompson in the last election. They voted for him because they thought he stood for tax cuts."

The stop here was one of five undertaken yesterday by the four officials. Other stops included Marion, Champaign, Rockford and Peoria.

25TH ANNIVERSARY FAMILY DAY at the A. O. Smith Corp. auto frame plant includes a plant tour taken by employees and their families Tuesday. Daniel Seehausen (right) is employed by the company, but it was his uncle, Harold Seehausen, who showed him some of the finer points of General Motors automobile frames. The day included displays of products, employee activities, the tour, and refreshments and gifts for all.

The new Chevrolet for 1980.

Caprice Classic 4-Door Sedan

Highest EPA mileage estimates ever in a full-size Chevrolet.

Exciting things have happened to The New Chevrolet Caprice for 1980. America's favorite full-size car features:

- New aerodynamic styling
- Newly standard 3.8 Liter V6 engine
- New standard high-pressure tires that roll easier than last year's tires.
- New anti-corrosion measures.

Even though Caprice has been redesigned to improve its fuel economy and driving range, it still maintains six-passenger roominess and comfort. Chevrolets are equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. Ask a salesperson for details on this and on Chevrolet's new three-year limited warranty against perforation (rust-through) due to corrosion.

Look at these impressive economy figures!

Highest EPA Mileage Estimates Ever in a Full-Size Chevrolet

18	26
EPA EST. MPG	EST. HWY. MPG

Remember: Compare the EPA estimated MPG to the estimated MPG of other cars. You may get different mileage and range depending on speed, tire inflat and weather. Actual highway mileage and range will probably be less than highway estimate.

New Longer Driving Range

EST. DRIVING RANGE	EST. HWY. DRIVING RANGE

Caprice and Impala Coupes and Sedans also can go farther on a tankful of gas. Range figures obtained by multiplying the new 25-gallon fuel tank capacity rating by the EPA mileage estimates.

'Good stuff' sale

A little bit of everything will be on sale Saturday morning at the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, Madison, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110, is having its second annual "good stuff" sale.

Roger McFain, chairman of the event, said, "We like to call our sale a 'good stuff' sale rather than rummage, mainly because we go out of our way to collect items still in very good condition. The clothes we sell are really like new."

Monies earned by the Explorers are to be used for purchase of new uniforms.

Skoklo secretary and Mrs. Jackie Small, corresponding secretary.

Norman A. Berg has been named vice-president of railroad sales of American Steel Foundries, a division of AMSTED Industries. The promotion was effective Oct. 1, ASF President James L. Green said this week.

Berg, 41, joined AMSTED's Griffin Wheel Division in 1963 as a sales representative. He was made manager of brake shoe sales in 1967; manager of technical shoes sales in 1972; and central regional sales manager in 1976. He was transferred to ASF in 1978 as assistant vice-president of sales.

Open house this week at area fire stations

National Fire Prevention Week is being marked this week by area fire departments, whose personnel are inspecting schools, including those in Granite City where fire drills are taking place.

All three fire stations in Granite City are holding open houses with the public invited to inspect the firefighting equipment and tour the facilities.

Fire safety coloring books for children and literature on heat and smoke detection devices are available at the stations.

The Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department will hold open house Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the fire station, on East Chain of Rocks Road.

Robert Sander, who is in charge of the open house program, said visitors are invited to view a demonstration of rescue techniques following a simulated automobile crash at 1 p.m. Saturday.

At 2 p.m., the firefighters will demonstrate the use of foam. Visitors may have their blood pressure tested throughout the day.

Refreshments will be served and the public will have the opportunity to patronize a bake sale and bazaar, sponsored by the Mitchell Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary.

Ruth Richardson is Auxiliary president.

The volunteer firemen are visiting Mitchell School this week to explain fire prevention procedures to students and observe a fire drill.

They also will present a program for members of the Mitchell Parent-Teacher Association.

Adult guests visiting the Mitchell fire station Saturday will be given souvenir key rings and youngsters will receive plastic fire hats and other mementos.

The Granite City Fire Department, in conjunction with the firefighters union, is sponsoring an essay and poster contest in the elementary schools.

There will be three prizes of $50 U.S. savings bonds.

Homeowners are being asked this year to consider purchasing heat or smoke detectors for their dwellings and to develop a family escape plan so everyone may get out safely in the event of a fire.

She will be working with all the communities the Mental Health Clinic serves and is specialized in therapy with individual, families, children aged 6-16, and consultations with school systems.

She received her bachelor degree from Taylor University in Indiana and her master of science in counseling psychology from the University of Kentucky. Her experience includes employment as staff psychologist for the Southern Bluegrass Comprehensive Care Center in Harrodsburg, Ky., and as a psychology technician for the Veterans Administration Hospital in Marion, Ind. She served in 1978 as an editorial assistant for the Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology.

Arrest women in assault case

Marilyn D. Walker, 23, of 1914 Beckwith St., Madison, was charged with aggravated assault, battery and criminal damage to property and a 16-year-old Granite City girl was charged with battery, criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct after a disturbance at 24th Street and Cleveland Boulevard at 4:20 p.m. Monday.

Janis Weible of the 2400 block of Benton Street said she and her 16-year-old daughter, Kathy, were driving and a blue car was following their auto very closely. The blue car drove onto the sidewalk to pass their car and the woman and teenager in the blue car got out and approached Mrs. Weible's auto.

The driver of the blue car allegedly displayed a knife and threatened Mrs. Weible. When Kathy Weible tried to help, the other teenager allegedly struck her in the face, breaking Miss Weible's glasses.

Police arrived and arrested the two who allegedly assaulted "the woman." Marilyn Walker's bond was set at $300 and the girl's bond was set at $200.

Man is shot by mistake

Everett Hines, 23, Alton, suffered a gunshot wound to his shoulder when he entered his mother's mobile home at the J & R Auto Salvage Yard on Route 111 near Poag Road in Mitchell during the week he was taking to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted.

Mrs. Hines said she had problems earlier in the week with a suspicious auto and when her son opened the door of the home, she fired at him with a handgun.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted.

FIND STOLEN CYCLE

A motorcycle stolen from the rear yard of the apartment of John McNeil, 571 Kirkpatrick Homes, between 10:30 p.m. Monday and 6 a.m. Tuesday was recovered at 24th and August streets.

Endorse zoning for K of C hall

The Granite City Council will be asked Tuesday night to approve rezoning of land southwest of Colonnades Nursing Home for a new Knights of Columbus hall.

The Granite City Planning Commission endorsed the rezoning two weeks ago, although there were seven persons present objecting to the rezoning of the seven acres. The recommendation was issued by the Planning Commission on a 6 to 1 vote.

Also before the council will be the recommendation of the Plan Commission that C-1 commercial zoning be granted to Clay Winfield to construct a medical clinic for six or seven doctors from 2013 to 2021 Johnson Road. An "L" shaped building with parking for 125 cars on the sides is envisioned.

A request by Jim Henderson for C-1 zoning at 2906 Madison Ave. for a parking lot also has received the endorsement of the Plan Commission.

The commissioners are recommending that the city council deny a request by Phillip Theiss, on behalf of Clifford Smith, for a special use permit to operate a real estate office at 2861 Madison Ave. The reason for the recommendation to deny the request is that the city currently is redrafting its special use permit ordinance and a moratorium exists in issuing them.

Tom Willett withdrew his request for C-1 zoning at 2223 Illinois Ave., to operate a printing business in his home after board members indicated they did not feel he was in violation of the zoning ordinances, since his printing office is in Madison and he is only finishing some of his excess work at home.

Mrs. Schmisser heads 9-state group

Members of the Mid-America Music Association unanimously elected Helen Schmisser of Granite City as president for their 1979-1980 year at a meeting during the weekend in Kansas City, Mo.

The Mid-America Music Association will hold its 24th annual music festival at the Sheraton-St. Louis Hotel on July 25 and 27, 1980.

Mrs. Schmisser has been a member of Mid-America for eight years as a consultant to the board of directors.

Besides being an active MAMA member, she also is active with her husband, Burel Schmisser, who operates the National School of Music.

Mr. Schmisser is employed by the Granite City Board of Education and is presently on the staff at Lake School.

Damage to the bushes was estimated at $300 to $400.

How to help hold the line on taxes

All Quad-City single-family home owners-occupants will need to apply for partial assessment exemptions by October 15 in order to obtain the exemption for the 1979 tax year (1980 collection).

A form that should be sent to one's township assessor appears in today's Press-Record.

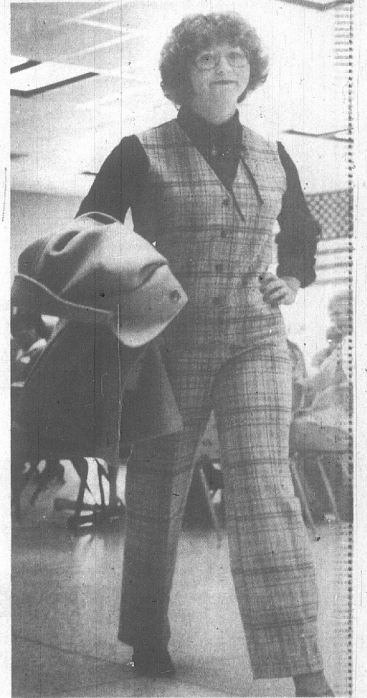

Exemption requests need to be filed by all at this time, under Senate Bill 1790, assessors emphasize. Those who did not a few months ago were dealing with a different tax year, they explain.

The exemption is intended, to offset part of the impact of inflation on home values. It is different from senior citizens' exemptions, filed each January.

Church to recognize Kerch, Pape, Smith families Sunday

First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, will dedicate memorial windows on Sunday, Oct. 14, at both the 8:30 and 11 a.m. morning worship services.

Three families are to dedicate nameplates on stained glass windows in the sanctuary of the church. The names on the stained glass windows are Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Mildred) Kerch; Alfred Pape, and Mr.

and Mrs. Alfred (Clara) Smith.

The gifts of the nameplates are from Barbara, Dorothy and Richard Kerch; Mrs. Alfred (Gladys) Pape, and Mrs. Isabel Schmidt.

"In every case, the families have been members of long standing in the church and have made valuable contributions in the life and work and worship of the church," the Rev. David B. Maxton, commented.

"Mr. and Mrs. Kerch had a keen interest in the music of the church and, along with the Smiths, were instrumental in the purchase of the organ years ago. They not only aided in the organ fund but served on the committee in making the purchase of the kind of organ most suited for the church."

"Mr. Pape served as an elder as well as a trustee of the church for many years."

"For example, at the time of her passing, Mrs. Mildred Kerch was over 90 years of age. Mr. Walter Kerch was a man of high esteem in the community as well as in the church. His advice was sought concerning the planning of buildings and he was the one consulted in the planning of Sunset Hill Cemetery.

"Mr. Smith was in the choir of the church for years. It was directed by Mrs. Clara Smith.

"His wife, Clara, also taught the adult Bible Class for over 55 years."

"Mr. Pape moved to Granite City with his wife, Gladys, and was for years a regular member, serving the church in many ways."

"He headed a committee that changed the church office from the church building next door."

"Now, on the first floor of the office building, a most comfortable and practical space has been provided for the office work of the church."

"This Sunday, we will rejoice in the past and call to mind the great contributions which have been made through the years to the church."

Health insurance beyond Medicare

Many people with Medicare coverage under Social Security feel that they would like additional health insurance coverage, according to Oliver Holmes, district manager, East St. Louis Social Security Office.

The problem is, said Holmes, that many Medicare recipients are not aware of just what their Medicare covers and what, if any, additional protection they need. To help solve this problem, a new booklet has been produced jointly by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The booklet is entitled "Guide to Health Insurance for People With Medicare" and can be obtained free of charge from the Social Security office, said Holmes.

The booklet deals with such things as shopping for supplemental health insurance, deciding whether you need a supplemental policy, and knowing what to look for in such a policy.

In addition, there is a comprehensive rundown of what Medicare covers and a checklist for use in determining individual insurance needs.

But the insurance industry and the Social Security Administration have recommended that a person considering supplemental health insurance, read this booklet before deciding what to buy.

A free copy may be obtained by writing to the Social Security office at 650

Missouri Ave., East St. Louis 62201 or 218 W. Main St., Belleville 62221.

Also, now that Madison County children have returned to school, many are finding that they need a Social Security number.

Holmes commented. He has some suggestions to aid these pupils in obtaining Social Security cards.

It is now required that everyone establish age, identity and citizenship before a Social Security card can be issued. In most cases, a student can do this by providing his or her birth certificate and one other document, such as a school identification card.

These documents along with an application for a Social Security number may be submitted by mail if the person is under age 18 and they will be returned. It now takes six or more weeks to issue a new Social Security card.

The documents submitted must be the original document or a certified copy. Photocopies made by the individual himself cannot be accepted.

A foreign-born person must also provide documents showing that he or she was legally admitted to this country or has become a naturalized citizen.

Any person over age 18 must appear in person to have a new or duplicate Social Security number issued and should bring the necessary documents with him.

Andrea Oliver, president of the Webster School PTA, said this is the second year for the school's participation in the RIF program.

RIF, under contract with the Health, Education and Welfare Department, is a national non-profit organization designed to motivate children to read by giving them the opportunity to choose and own inexpensive books.

The school and RIF distributed over 900 free books to students last year. Volunteer parents help with ordering books and keeping records.

Cremation services are being held this week in Bedford.

Jogger returns, finds car looted

Police went to the Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 2067 Benton St., at 2 a.m. Saturday, in response to a report that a man was siphoning gasoline from a church bus and putting the gas into an auto parked nearby on Benton.

An officer arriving at the scene saw a man carrying a gas can run west between the church and Emerson school and disappear. A five gallon can, full of gasoline, was found near the buildings.

An inspection of the unlocked auto left on Benton disclosed a lock-type gas cap off the vehicle and spilled gasoline beneath the tank.

Inside the car were a pair of blue slacks and a wallet identifying the owner as Don Meagher, 21, of 2015B Bryn Mawr Ave.

As a tow truck was starting to move the vehicle, Meagher arrived at the scene.

He was wearing jogging shorts and shoes and told police he was a long distance runner and left his car at the same location every night while he jogged to Wilson Park and back.

He reported the car had been locked and a bank envelope containing $473 cash had been stolen from under the floor mat, together with a key to the gas tank.

Meagher also said the trunk lock had been smashed and the spare tire was gone.

Someone who saw the siphoning incident said the man involved was about five feet, 10 inches tall, medium build and was wearing dark colored pants and a multicolored shirt with long sleeves.

The man was making his second trip between the bus and car when police arrived, the witness said.

House entered on Edna Street

Responding to a call that a burglary was in progress at a home in the 2200 block of Edna Street at 11:20 p.m. Saturday, officers stopped and questioned a man who was walking along the street.

The man, who identified himself as a serviceman on leave, closely resembled the person who had knocked on the door of the residence and then was seen crawling through a window, police said.

The serviceman, 18, denied being inside the house. He was released after questioning.

Officers secured the house that had been entered after being told by a neighbor the occupant was out-of-town.

Disabled vets' housing grants

Special housing grants for disabled American veterans will become available Jan. 1, 1980, it was announced at a meeting of the State of Illinois executive committee of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) held last week in Kankakee, Ill.

The grants are to range between $5,000 and $10,000, delegates said.

DAV Quad City Chapter 53 was represented at the meeting by Commander Lawrence L. Lockhart and Adjutant Joseph Heffery.

It was announced at the state meeting that children of veterans missing in action, prisoners of war and 100 percent disabled may receive scholarships in any Illinois state college or university until age 26.

Freeman Clinard, field officer, will assist any veteran in acquiring any benefits, according to Commander Lockhart.

Gene Wilson, coordinator of the Veterans Employment Service and Illinois Job Service, gave a review on employment in Illinois.

Clinard said the leaders of the Illinois DAV were told by Wilson not to hope for extensive expansion of benefits under the Carter administration.

Information on new DAV programs may be obtained by contacting Earl Langwitz, junior vice-commander of Chapter 53, by telephoning 451-5752.

Madison officers went to a tavern in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue during the weekend upon receiving a report that a man wanted to turn himself in to the police.

Donald G. Gischer, 28, of Freeburg, Ill., who was standing in the road outside the tavern, told officers he was wanted for violation of probation by the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department.

Gischer's identity was verified and he was taken into custody. Later, he was released to Sergeant Tom Edwards of the St. Clair County Sheriff's office.

Gischer told local officers he had been in Texas for the last four months and had returned that day to this area.

Preparations for river user charge

Samuel B. Nemirow, assistant secretary of commerce for maritime affairs, has toured Locks and Dam 26 at Alton. In a speaking engagement at the annual meeting of the National Waterways Conference the day before his visit to L&D 26, Nemirow said he has delegated a senior official to full-time duties "as our liaison" with the Department of Transportation to help administer the waterway user charge study mandated by Congress in P.L. 95-502 last year.

Noting that the first report of the study, including findings and policy recommendations, is to be submitted to Congress by Sept. 30, 1981, Nemirow said that presently there are two obstacles:

1. The user charge will be in effect for only a year of the period allowed for the study — "hardly enough time for impact to be accurately identified and measured."

2. While Congress authorized $8 million, so far only $1 million has been appropriated (and it was obligated only two days before 1978-79 Congressional authority for its use expired Sept. 30).

Referring to the just published full report of the Mid-America Ports Study, Nemirow offered the following predictions about the development of the inland waterway fleet: — A. Towboats will continue to be produced at a rate of between 90 and 110 vessels per year with an average horsepower of about 4,000. Approximately 40 of these annual deliveries will be exclusively major river line-haul towboats exceeding 10,000 hp.

B. Towboat crew size will undergo only a slight reduction during the remainder of the century. Certain efficiencies will result from improved lash-up devices and the use of larger barges.

C. Before the year 2000, medium-speed diesel engines will be used aboard lower Mississippi River line-haul towboats.

D. Tow boats will become increasingly dependable and common on line-haul integrated tows.

E. The barge fleet will continue to be composed of deck hopper and tank barges. Hopper barges of integrate box and rake configurations will continue to be produced for dry-bulk unit-tows but at levels below the peak 1975-1977 output.

The growth of the tank barge fleet is expected to include increasing numbers of compartmentalized and cylindrical tank barges, he said.

22 new cubs for Pack 19

Twenty-two new cubs and three adult leaders joined Cub Pack 19 at Logan School at a meeting last week of the pack.

Cub scouts Gary Reidman, Eric Vargo, Jake Veinard and Carl Anderson presented the flag and led the group in the pledge. The new cubs and their parents were welcomed by committee chairman Vicki Siers. She introduced clubmaster Barbara Varadani, den leader coach Gloria Huber and committee member Janis Smith.

Those parents signing up as new leaders were Shirley Roe, Jolene Brady and Wendy Somraty.

Mrs. Varadani presented the boys with their belt pins, to be worn upside down until next month when each boy will tell good deeds done to earn the right to wear the pin correctly.

The new scouts are: Joey Roller, Charles Fennoglio, James Somraty, Richie Roller, William Wiedower, Phillip Baldwin, Juan Arguelles, James Roe, Michael Ethington, Darren Pickey, Phillip Rongey, Jason Shemwell, Allen Mollet, Steven Ferris, Brian Moore, Corey Lupardus, Richard Martin, Eric Smith, Ernest Miller, Kenneth Griggs, Michael Somraty and Chad Whitford.

Mrs. Varadani presented four year pins to Vicki Siers and Gloria Huber.

Prizes were awarded and refreshments were served.

ARREST YOUNG DRIVER
Cindy L. Young, 16, Edwardsville, was charged with not having a driver's license after her auto struck a utility pole in the 2800 block of Pershing Boulevard early this week. She said she turned from the Kozyaks parking lot left onto Pershing, lost control and struck the pole. She then left on foot and went to the Granite City police building three hours later to report the incident. Officers released her on $35 cash bond.

Three hurt as Jeep overturns

Three persons were injured when the Jeep of Michael Buckingham, 20, of 2423 Hemlock Ave., overturned on the entrance road to the Low Water Dam south of Chain of Rocks Road at 10 p.m. Monday.

He told state police the truck slipped off the roadway, rolled over once and came to rest on its wheels at the bottom of an embankment.

Buckingham suffered a large bump to the top of his head and was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Drive for Marquette expansion

Robert J. Walters, executive director of the Southwest Illinois Industrial Association, will lead a $1,000,000 drive for expansion and renovation of Marquette High School, Alton, R. Emmett Fitzgerald, Alton attorney and president of the Marquette Advisory Board, announced Tuesday. The Ursuline Sisters operate the school.

Walters said the principal support for the program will need to come from the seven Alton-area Catholic parishes from which Marquette High School draws most of its students. He has already enlisted the aid of the pastors in selecting parish chairmen.

"We will also seek support from other area parishes, from all alumni, from non-Catholic parents of present and former Marquette students, and from other friends of Marquette in business and professions," Walters said.

Solicitation will not begin until mid-November, culminating on "Commitment Sunday" Dec. 2. Purposes of the program are to bring Marquette's physical plant into complete compliance with state life-safety codes; and to build for new classrooms, expand the library, and install energy conservation measures which, in view of rising fuel costs, will be self-amortizing.

Released after posting of bond

William Edward Blackburn, 25, of Rural Route 1, was released at 11:45 a.m. Monday after posting $205 cash bond. He is charged with battery, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest following a disturbance at 12:45 a.m. Monday at the Bastille Lodge, 1316 Madison Ave. Blackburn allegedly was removed from the lounge by two employees after causing a disturbance.

Outside the lounge, it is alleged, he took off his shirt and yelled profanity. Police said they told him three times to leave, and he allegedly struck a Madison police officer and made threats toward the policeman that an uncle would "take care of you."

Officers said an additional charge of destruction of city property has been lodged against Blackburn.

At 4 a.m. Monday, he allegedly stopped up the sink in his cell, flooding the area. He is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 26.

GIFT OF A FREEZER. The appliance is given by David Schermer of Schermer Brothers Supermarket in Pontoon Beach to Wanda Shirrell of Wood River.

Accept increase in ambulance fee

The Chouteau Town Board Monday night quietly accepted an increase in the charge per call for ambulance service to the township.

During the brief meeting, which was chaired by Trustee Marion Sparks, Town Clerk Patricia Polley read a letter from the Granite City Ambulance Service that the charge for Chouteau Township residents going to St. Elizabeth Medical Center increased from $75 to $95, effective Oct. 1.

The trustees accepted the letter without comment and placed it on file.

The Granite City Council increased the fee from $75 to $95 per call, plus mileage, when Manpower funding for most of the emergency medical technicians (EMTs) ran out and the city was forced to pick up the full salaries of those working in the ambulance service.

Beaten with tire iron

Area police agencies are looking for a Wood River man who allegedly beat a man with a tire iron at the 7-11 Store, Niedringhaus and Cleveland, at 1:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Lin Cheung, St. Louis, said he and his wife were getting gasoline for which he had just paid when a van drove to the gasoline pump and the driver went inside the store.

A passenger got out, demanded to use the pump immediately and was abusive to Cheung, it was related. Cheung refused to fight the man and said the man pushed him and then struck him several times with a tire tool, causing a cut to the side of Cheung's head.

The assailant left on foot. The driver of the van remained on the scene until police arrived, and gave his consent for officers to search the van. A tire iron found inside was held for evidence.

Cheung was taken by his wife to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was treated and released.

As police were leaving the 7-11 lot, the driver of the van, Frank Duich Jr., 22, Wood River, allegedly acted in a disorderly manner and was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

GARAGE BURNS

Sue GC schools

A three-count lawsuit, seeking $50,000 in each count, has been filed against the Granite City Board of Education and Milam-East Corp. on behalf of a student who was injured Oct. 30, 1975, at McKinley School.

Feyn Stephens filed the suit on behalf of Richard E. Stephens who was injured on the school playground when other students pushed a trash dumpster on wheels into him, breaking his left leg, according to the suit.

The first two counts are against the school board and allege negligence and inadequate supervision. The third count is against Milam-East for providing a dumpster on wheels to the school which could be pushed by other students.

TO WED. Miss Marlene Keastner and Jeffery Champion are planning to marry in August 1980. The groom-elect is the son of Blaine and Shirley Lambert of Granite City and the late Lloyd Champion.

Miss Keastner bride-elect

The engagement of Miss Marlene Keastner and Jeffery Champion is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Keastner of St. Louis. The groom-to-be is the son of Blaine and Shirley Lambert of Granite City and the late Lloyd Champion.

Miss Keastner graduated from St. Anthony of Padua High School in 1978 and is currently attending Forest Park Community College, where she is studying radiologic technology. The groom-elect graduated from Granite City High School in 1978. He served four and one half years in the U.S. Navy, and is currently employed at American Steel Foundries.

The wedding is scheduled to take place in August 1980 at St. Boniface Catholic Church in St. Louis.

Joan Walker becomes Mrs. Richard Kramer

Mount Zion General Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding uniting Joan L. Walker and Richard J. Kramer.

The Rev. Donald Clark officiated at the double ring ceremony Aug. 11. Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Walker of Texarkana, Tex., are the parents of the bride. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. James L. Kramer, 2914 Sunset Drive.

Pam Pinkston, soloist, sang "H." "The Wedding Song," "Turn Around" and "Looks Like We Made It." Dorothy Osborn accompanied her on the piano. The bride selected a gown of white organza with a sheer net bodice accented with lace. Her full skirt extended into a Chapel length train. She wore a shoulder length veil with a lace and seed pearl headpiece. Her flowers were white carnations and baby breath, with greenery accenting the bouquet.

Margaret Lovins was maid of honor. Ingrid and Chris Kramer, sisters of the groom, along with Judy Walker, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaids. They wore rainbow colored gowns in hues of blue, apricot, maize and pink. The dresses featured sheer bodices and circular skirts with matching formal print jackets.

Each wore a picture hat and carried a bouquet of daisies matching their dresses. Lisa Young, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. Jerry Walker, the bride's brother, was the ring bearer.

The groom chose his brother, Michael Kramer, to serve as best man. Gilbert DeGonia, Mike Colburn and John Walker, a brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

Robert Young, the bride's uncle, and Jerry Ropac were ushers. Robyn Clonko and Ropac were candlelighters. A reception followed the ceremony at St. John's Lutheran Church.

After the dinner reception, a gathering was held at the home of Robert and Judy Young, an uncle and aunt of the bride.

The newlyweds are residing in Texarkana, where they are both employed.

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kramer were united in marriage Aug. 11 at Mount Zion General Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Joan Walker of Texarkana, Tex. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kramer of Granite City.

MISS NANCY LEE SANDERS. Her betrothal to Jim Volner is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders, 2037 Dewey Ave. A spring 1980 wedding is planned.

Nancy Sanders to marry

Miss Nancy Lee Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Charlene) Sanders, 2037 Dewey Ave., Granite City, is engaged to Jim Volner, son of Bill and Ina Messinger of Madison.

The wedding will be in the spring of 1980.

The bride-elect graduated in 1975 from Granite City High School South and presently is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She will graduate in March 1980 with a degree in elementary education. She is employed by the Granite City Park District as concession supervisor and was formerly employed by the Granite City Public Library.

The bridegroom-elect attended Granite City High School South and is employed by Crown Cork and Seal, St. Louis.

Nameoki Methodist women plan bazaar

Progress being made toward the annual church-wide bazaar Saturday, Oct. 27, was heard Monday night by members of the Nameoki United Methodist Women.

The group met at the church, Pontoon Road and Murdock Avenue, with Mrs. Reba Forshee and Mrs. Helene Bischoff as hostesses.

Mrs. Norma Rains, bazaar chairman, said workshop sessions to complete bazaar items will continue to be held each Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., resuming again the same day at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Rains and Janie Patton said the public bazaar will open at 10 a.m. Oct. 27, with lunch and dinner to be served. Other refreshments also will be available.

At the meeting, Mrs. LuAnn Briner gave the program, entitled "Pledges For the Coming Year."

Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Mary Bailey and Mrs. Dorothy Luckert offered prayer for the sick and led the Fellowship of the Least Coin service.

Mrs. Gladys Russell, at the piano, accompanied group singing and Mrs. Rains read a poem as the devotional.

In the business session, conducted by Mrs. Bischoff, president, a report was presented by Mrs. Alta Stewart concerning the Friends in Learning program.

The Church Women United youth program is designed to aid school children in need of individual guidance and is scheduled to start this month at Webster School.

Volunteers are urgently needed to assist in the endeavor, Mrs. Stewart said.

Reason for city to be wary of collection proposal

An article in Monday's Press-Record, "Car repossession in residential area seeking ambulance collection work," noted that the Madison City Council has contracted with W. C. Maupin of the Illinois Repossession and Collection Agency to collect overdue ambulance bills for a fee of one-third.

It was related in the same article that a committee of the City Council of Granite City has been empowered to negotiate with him on the terms of a potential ambulance collection contract in Granite City. Points discussed included a business address within a residentially-zoned area, and the degree of experience cited.

A story in today's issue is based on court records. Specific records indicate that not all funds collected in the past have been promptly forwarded to firms commissioning collection work, leading to the filing of lawsuits by them to force the money to be remitted in part or in full.

We have no way of predicting the future, and we concede there may be other pertinent facts that we haven't yet run across, facts which might shed a different light on the proposed contract.

But if savings are being projected, it would seem that these could be more than offset if the city ever had to go to court, for whatever purpose, regarding ambulance collections.

Council members may wish to study such a proposal long and hard in order to avoid any "penny wise" pitfalls.

Bright future seen for daytime college center here

Belleville Area College comment — "People in Granite City have been surprised!" said Larry Schmalenberger, who is heading up the daytime extension center in that city. "People here want this program to go, and the cooperation we have had from the press, community leaders and from the students enrolling here has been incredible."

Twenty-one classes are in progress at the old Washington School at West 20th and Nevada, with more than 200 people enrolled for 1,245 credit hours. The college had projected about a thousand credit hours for this first semester, or two thousand for the year in the daytime program.

The most popular courses are business and occupational courses, but baccalaureate-oriented transfer courses such as psychology, history, and government did very well also, according to Schmalenberger.

He describes the students in the daytime program as "a cross-section of Granite City." Many are recent high school graduates; there are numerous housewives who are taking classes while their children are in school; and a half dozen senior citizens are taking advantage of the newly instituted tuition reduction for people above the age of 60.

In fact, one 61-year-old lady is carrying a full course load. BAC's Board of Trustees recently approved a tuition rate of $2 a credit hour for people above the age of 60.

Asked about the facilities at Washington School, Schmalenberger admitted that he had some reservations at first concerning the building. Al Jorns was assigned during the summer, however, and now Schmalenberger says that the building is all right and that the city ever had to go to court, for whatever purpose, regarding ambulance collections.

"The building is attractive and comfortable, thanks to Al Jorns. We couldn't have found a better man."

Schmalenberger, along with other college officials, is optimistic about the future of the college in Granite City. "The people obviously want our program here, and they are supporting it. That is all that is necessary for the daytime classes to build and grow," Schmalenberger said.

"We are already preparing the schedule for the spring semester. The cooperation I have had from Dr. Clark (vice-president for instruction), Dean Washburn and Dean Stone (department chairman and counselors) has been tremendous. With that kind of team spirit, we can make this daytime program in Granite City an increasingly important part of the college."

Send officials to the convention

To the Editor:

Once again, the citizens of Nameoki Township are asked to participate in a petition drive. Once again, the petition drive is being spearheaded by Mrs. Helen Hawkins.

This time the drive is aimed at the entire Nameoki Township Board. The petition is urging the Board of Trustees not to send all the elected township officials to the national convention this year.

Mrs. Hawkins contends that it is "traditional" that the entire board attends this convention, but that this is costly for the taxpayers who are "footing the bill."

Tradition does not enter into the appropriation of the $3,500 for nine elected officials, including one trustee, supervisor, tax assessor, town clerk and an appointed township attorney. A fourth trustee recently was appointed by the town board.

A similar petition drive was recently launched by Ms. Hawkins, to persuade the town board to recognize her as the successor for vacated post of trustee. This drive was unsuccessful.

She should recognize the premise of this convention.

A large number of elected officials representing many phases of government meet to openly air problems and collectively seek solutions.

It is in essence, an informational exchange meeting and, by virtue of their elected township offices, each and every board member should be compelled to attend.

An attempt to disenfranchise Nameoki taxpayers with a petition is in poor taste.

Isn't Mrs. Hawkins chairman of the Citizens for Better Government in Nameoki Township?

A. O. Smith designed and built the first pressed steel auto frame in America in 1902. The company he founded has since then produced nearly 130 million frame units.

FBI assists in capture in robbery try

A call to Madison police at 1:47 p.m. Wednesday was about an attempted armed robbery. A suspect was arrested at 1:51 p.m. and booked at 2:03 p.m. into the Madison city jail, where the 27-year man is being held pending a court appearance.

Jim Quick, an FBI agent, and Paul Bargiel, a Madison detective, apprehended the suspect on Fox Brothers Road.

A woman employee of the Illinois Pacific Trucking Company, 1601 Market St., was returning to work from lunch.

The man approached her auto and said, "This is a stickup; get back in the car." She then yelled, the suspect fled, a fellow employee gave chase and police were called.

The man allegedly had a pellet gun when arrested. A police spokesman said the pellet gun looked very much like a .387 magnum pistol.

News notes

The biggest volume of trading in history took place Wednesday on the stock market. Bond prices continued to fall. Stocks are down sharply this week following Federal Reserve Board action to limit inflation by boosting interest rates.

Legislators have been called into special session Wednesday, Oct. 17, to consider the governor's plan for a one-cent cut in the five-cent sales tax on grocery and drug items.

The Illinois Transportation Department on Tuesday awarded a $200,000 planning contract to three firms to prepare for redevelopment of the railroad area on the East St. Louis riverfront. After relocation of the yards, 1,300 acres will be available for industrial or other use.

National Steel President Howard M. Love said Tuesday steel orders have risen in recent weeks, but that this is more of a scheduling correction, to make up for inventories that were reduced earlier this year.

The U. S. Supreme Court on Tuesday left intact an Illinois law requiring state judges to retire at age 70.

Daniel Kelley Jr., Des Moines, Iowa, a former local resident whose parents live at 2912 Buxton Ave., was one of four personal guards for Pope John Paul II during his Iowa visit last week and was presented a medal and blessing by the pontiff.

GOP will hear Curtis

Former Missouri Congressman Tom Curtis will be the featured speaker on Monday, Oct. 15, when Madison County Republicans convene for their annual convention in Edwardsville.

Dr. Edward Ragsdale, chairman of the Madison County Republican Central Committee, said, "We in Madison County are fortunate to have Tom Curtis as our neighbor across the river. During his years in the Congress, he was a leader in the fight to reduce the mammoth federal bureaucracy by holding the line on government spending while cutting out costly waste."

"For 18 years, Curtis served his district with distinction. In addition, Missouri Republicans twice nominated him as their United States Senate candidate."

Curtis, who resides in Clayton with his wife, Liz, is a member of the law firm of Curtis, Crossen, Hensley, Allen and Curtis.

Dr. Ragsdale said the Madison County Republican convention will be voting on a new set of governing bylaws and will also hear reports from the four Republican state legislators whose districts serve portions of Madison County.

"In contrast with the Democratic Party, the meeting is open to the media and the general public," Dr. Ragsdale said. "The convention will convene at 7 p.m. Monday at the Edwardsville High School cafeteria."

All day session by Honor Circle

The Honor Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church held a day-long meeting with Mrs. Augusta Pender serving as hostess.

The morning was spent quilting with a business meeting following. Mrs. Pender served as leader in the absence of Mrs. Lucy Weaver.

Mrs. Ina Smith gave the devotion, which included a reading based on the 14th chapter of St. Luke entitled "Come to the Feast," and a poem by Mary Mason entitled "Forsaken All."

Eight sick calls were reported and cards sent to those members who were ill and unable to attend. The meeting was closed with The Lord's Prayer said in unison.

Golden anniversary of Mr., Mrs. Skubish

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Skubish, 3424 Lydia Lane, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by renewing their vows at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows.

They were married Sept. 28, 1929, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Granite City.

Also in honor of the occasion, an evening reception was held at the Elks Lodge. Guests were greeted by Bennie Sanders and Alicia Hughes, who presided at the guestbook and presented a long-stemmed rose to each lady and a personalized favor to each man.

Huge baskets of golden daisies were placed on the stairway bannisters. Original wedding pictures were arranged with floral pieces in the entrance foyer.

Approximately 200 friends and family members entered the doorway of the hall through a garden trellis trimmed in golden net and tiny twinkle light.

Individual round tables held floating candle centerpieces circled with net ruffles. A champagne fountain was aglow with colored lights.

A golden floral centerpiece flanked by tall tapers with flowered bases adorned the head table. A floor-length gold velvet tablecloth covered the buffet table, which also contained a flower arrangement.

Members of the original wedding party who attended the celebration were Mike and Josephine Orescovich, Joe Cuvar, Casmer Skubish, Adolph Tessari and Amelia Bodeck.

Five generations of the Skubish family were represented by the presence of Mrs. Anna Skubish, Michael Skubish, Charlene Skubish Sanders, Debra Kelley and Amanda Kelley.

Earlier in their anniversary week, the couple was honored with a dinner party at Diamond Mineral Springs Restaurant in Highland, given by their children and grandchildren, Charlene and Bennie Sanders, Tom, Sandy and Alicia Hughes, and Brian, Debbie and Amanda Kelley.

Mr. Skubish is retired from Granite City Steel, where he was employed for 49 years.

TAKE AIR COOLER

A $530 air conditioner was stolen from the rear of the Flow Gallery, 1415 Twenty-first St., between 7 p.m. Monday and 9:05 a.m. Tuesday. The unit had been left outside overnight with items on top to cover it.

Smallies meet the first lady

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Smallie have just returned home from a visit with Mrs. Smallie's brother, Ralph E. Gray, and family of North Redington Beach, Fla. They attended a reception at the Bayfront Concourse Hotel ballroom in downtown St. Petersburg for First Lady Rosalynn Carter and had the pleasure of personally greeting and speaking with Mrs. Carter.

Ralph E. Gray was paymaster of General Steel Industries while living in this area. Mrs. Gray is the former Mary Hackethal.

Bridal shower for Miss Bunselmeyer

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Saturday for Miss Janet Bunselmeyer in the home of Mrs. David (Myra) Parrish, 2544 Watman Ave.

The shower was hosted by Miss Robin Holshouser, Miss Katherine Rochester and Mrs. Robert (Judy) Brel.

A centerpiece of pink and cranberry flowers decorated the gift table, along with wedding bells and streamers.

Games were played, with prizes going to Mesdames Susan Anderson, Cheryl Pelate and Harriet Bunselmeyer.

Refreshments were served to the above mentioned and Mrs. Robert (Neil) Holshouser, Mrs. Robert (Sue) Bunselmeyer, Mrs. Rick (Diane) Ryan, Mrs. David (Carol) Rice and Miss Tammy Lupardus.

The Different Strokes 4-H Club, the newest 4-H club in the Granite City area, will sponsor its first project, a bake sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at the Kroger store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

At a meeting during the weekend in the home of Mrs. Linda Royce, nine members finalized plans for the project.

Shawn Fulcher demonstrated circle dancing and refreshments were served by Jerri Lewis and Dana Pickard.

The club will meet Oct. 19 at the home of Tammy Zeuglin.

GARDEN CLUBS HOLD CONSERVATION MEET

Twelve members of District V Garden Clubs attended a conservation conference held at Allerton Park near Monticello. Those attending included Mrs. Robert Hintz of the Gardners Garden Club in Granite City.

One speaker talked on "Operation Wildflower," a relatively new project sponsored by the garden clubs. He was from the Illinois Department of Transportation and told of problems and expenses of keeping roadsides mowed. After telling of the various planting programs that have been tried, he said he thinks the planting of wildflowers will be a big success.

Mrs. W. G. Diffenbaugh, conservation chairman, arranged the conference.

Now and then in GC vocational classes

OFFICE PRACTICE class during the late '30s is in sharp contrast with the modern look of today's typing classes in the Granite City high schools. Old mechanical typewriters and other office machines, at left, bear little resemblance to the new, electric typewriters now in use.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE is seen in these two photos of drafting classes now, left, and then, right. The same basic tools and instruments are still in use. The only obvious differences are the hair-styles and clothes of today.

SHARP CONTRAST in home economics classes is apparent in these two photos. At left is an all-girl class of the late 1930s using hand mixers and at right is a co-ed class of today using a microwave oven for preparation of foods. Note the differences in the cabinets as well.

EXPANDED INSTRUCTION in vocational fields now includes cosmetology instruction. Left, automotive mechanics; center, and practical office work in "hands-on" situations, as at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, at right. Vocational instruction stresses actual involvement of the students in real work situations and not just classroom work. Community cooperation with career training is called the key to many of the school district's vocational programs.

North and South square off in round one

By PETE HAYES

GRANITE CITY

Like old friends who keep running into each other, Granite City's two high schools' sports teams have a habit of bumping into one another about this time of the year. In sports like soccer, girls' tennis, golf, field hockey and volleyball, the two have already done battle. But this week, it's the "big one." Football.

Friday night at 7:30, Memorial Stadium at South will be roaring with every play when 3-2 Granite City North and 3-2 Granite South do battle for the first time in the newly-formed Gateway East Conference.

Because the new loop has but five members, three of the teams have to face each other twice. Guess who? The second meeting between the two schools will come Oct. 26 on the same field. South will face Cahokia for the second time next week.

"I'm not in my remotest thoughts happy about it," said South coach Stan Wojcik. "I don't like to play anybody twice. I want to play them once and get it over with."

"There's just so much you can do to prepare for a team," said Wojcik.

"By the second game, the other guys know just about what you're going to do. If you win the first one, it gives the other team some motive for revenge."

Both teams are hoping for something different from recent performances. North looked dismal last week in a 21-7 loss at the hands of Mount Vernon, while South gained only two first downs in its 7-4 thriller over Edwardsville.

The game is also critical to the conference race. South is 2-1 in the loop, while North is 1-0. Belleville Althoff is the front-runner with a 2-0 record, including a 28-6 win over South two weeks ago.

"I hope we do something different," said North coach Tom Wyrostek. "We just didn't have our heads in the game." North committed six turnovers in the game. Wyrostek is optimistic. "I know we can play with them," he said. "The first thing we have to do is overcome ourselves and quit making silly mistakes."

Wojcik is also hoping for a change of pace. "We have to generate more offense," he said. "Last week, our defense did a great job, but you can't depend on them doing the job game in and game out when they're out on the field so much during a game.

"We're at a point where we're confident in our defense," said. "Up to this point, our defense really hasn't been scored on as much as our offense. By that I mean, our offense has been putting the defense in bad holes because of not being able to move the ball."

Last week, Mount Vernon was able to pick the North secondary apart for a total of 83 yards in passing. Does Wyrostek feel South will try to do the same? "I don't think they (South) will have the same success through the air," he said. "Prior to the Mount Vernon game, other teams hadn't been able to do much through the air on us. Against Mount Vernon, we tried some different things in coverage. Obviously they didn't work.

"We could afford to try new ideas because it wasn't a conference game."

Wojcik said he was surprised by the North-Mount Vernon game. "I was shocked," he said. "It was the first time I'd seen North, even though we've had them scouted in other games.

Injuries could play a role in Friday's game. Each team has players who are questionable. South fullback Scott Polston is definitely out, according to Wojcik, with a back injury. Running back Jeff Bergrader is questionable because of a hip-pointer suffered in the Edwardsville game.

North quarterback Tim Dudley is questionable, according to Wyrostek. "If he can't do it, I doubt if he'll play," he said.

Harriers third at MadCo

EDWARDSVILLE — The Granite City South cross country team finished third here Tuesday in the running of the Madison County Meet at SIU-Edwardsville. Cross-town school Granite North was fourth.

Alton easily ran away with the championship with 41 points. Highland was second with 63. South had 78, North 115. Wood River 138, Collinsville 180 and Bethalto 220.

South's Dave Houston, who is finally reaching his potential, finished third in the field on the 3 mile course. His time was 15:45. North's Bruce DeRuntz was fifth in 15:50. Houston was last season's district champion, but had been slowed down most of this season by an injury.

Alton's Gary Chappel was the individual champ with a time of 15:15, a meet record. Rob Hyten of Wood River was second in 15:18. Edwardsville's Ed Lamb was fourth in 15:47.

South won the freshman-sophomore division of the meet with 45 points. Triad had 46, North 55 and Alton 123. North's Roger Reyes placed second over the 2 mile course in 11:16. Dave McLean of South was third in 11:20.

In the girls division, South placed third behind Collinsville and Highland. Christine Wroblewski was 7th in 14:39 over the 2-mile course.

SIU-E netters lose 7-2

EDWARDSVILLE — The women's tennis team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tangled with the Wildcats of Northwestern University in Evanston over the past weekend, and wound up in the losing end of the skirmish, 7-2. But Cougar Coach Bob Meyers was proud of his SIUE players, even in defeat. Northwestern is a Division I school, currently ranked No. 1 in the state.

SIUE's Lillian Almeida was the class player of the matches. She extended her unbeaten streak in singles to 14-0 as she dropped the Wildcats' No. 1 player, Cindy Brightfield by 6-1, 3-6, 6-3 score.

Other Cougar singles results were a little less fortunate. Pat Ziegenfuss was defeated by Annie Colan, 1-6, 1-6. Mary Boyer dropped SIUE's Christy Cone, 2-6, 2-6. The Cougars' Ruth Allen fell to Claire Roehm, 1-6, 2-6. Carolyn Spengler beat Granite City's Joy Pierson, 6-4, 2-6 and SIUE's Bunny Wall was defeated by Kathy Tondono, 0-6, 1-6.

THE EYES HAVE IT. Granite City North's Bob Batey (right) focuses all his attention on the ball as he dribbles it through the Quincy defense at North High Monday. Batey scored three goals, all from 30 feet or more, as North notched its 12th victory of the season, 5-3, over the Blue Devils.

South moves ahead of Steelers in poll

GRANITE CITY — For the first time this season, Granite City South finds itself ahead of crosstown rival GC North in the Press-Record large school football coaches' poll.

North, after dropping a 21-7 decision to Mount Vernon Saturday, is in 7th place (down one from last week). South moved up from 9th to 5th after a 7-6 victory over Edwardsville in a Gateway East Conference foe. North and South will meet for the first of two times this season Friday night.

South switched spots with East St. Louis Lincoln in the 5th spot. Lincoln lost to Rantoul 22-6.

There were no changes in the first four spots. Unbeaten and unscathed upon East St. Louis gained all five first place votes. Last week the Flyers downed Alton 29-0. The three Belleville schools followed the Flyers in the poll. Alton dropped from 7th to 8th after falling to East St. Louis followed by Edwardsville 9th (8th last week) and Cahokia.

In the small school poll, Mascoutah broke loose from

The Shells got one first place vote, two 10th to 7th and O'Fallon from 10th to 8th. Breese Central dropped out of the top ten after a 48-0 loss to Assumption. Last week Central was 7th. ## Batey bombs Quincy

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — If not for a little luck and the powerful right foot of Granite City North's Bob Batey, the soccer Steelers might have suffered their second straight upset loss here Monday.

North had to overcome itself as much as its opponent Monday in taking a thrilling 5-3 victory over Quincy Senior High. North was evidently still not convinced it was human, even after falling at Collinsville 2-1 Saturday night. The win gave North a 12-1 record. Quincy fell to 10-5.

"We were lucky," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "We didn't play well at all. I could tell going into the game that the same thing that happened Saturday night could well happen again."

In Saturday's loss, Kehoe blamed complacency and lack of effort on the loss, in addition to some fired-up play by Collinsville.

"I guess the only reason we won was that we had a few more good athletes than they did," said Kehoe. "I'm not saying soccer players, just pure athletes. If they (Quincy) had had more, we probably would have lost."

Not for Batey's three goals. North could have been in trouble. Each goal was from at least 30 feet out. He scored the game's first and last two, including the winner.

"How often do you see one goal in a game from that far out, much less three?" asked Kehoe. "Not very often."

Batey's first goal probably should never have happened. Striking down the left sideline, he took a pass from teammate Mark Jones about 40 feet out, dribbled the ball and then let loose with a booming shot. Quincy goalie appeared to have made the save. It hit him straight on in the chest area. But the shot had so much velocity, it caromed off and into the far corner. It came with 11:37 remaining in the first quarter.

North kept up the pressure. With seven minutes later, Jones took a cross-pass from teammate Mike Robertson inches from the left post of the Quincy goal and headed it into the net. "He was going so fast and was so close to the post, I thought he was going to hit his head on it," said Kehoe.

North appeared to have the game well in hand at that point. Quincy had other ideas. With about eight minutes left in the half, Mike Schrader took a harmless-looking shot at North goalie Tracy Hickam, who appeared to have the angle cut off to the left of the goal.

Hickam mis-judged the ball, however, and trapped it against the post - inside the goal according to referee John Sellmeyer.

The goal lit a fire under the Blue Devils, but North's Dan Fitzgerald did what he could to put it out early in the third quarter. He fired a rebound off a shot by Robertson into the net to up North's lead to 3-1 at the 14:04 mark.

Let-down time. Later in the period, Quincy got two quick goals in the space of a minute to tie the score. After Roger Wilson bested Hickam at 4:26, Quincy star Orville Radd took a pass at midfield and took the ball all the way in on Hickam where he let a low shot go that went in at 3:39.

Batey came to the rescue. His booming goal from 30 feet out at 11:13 proved to be the winner. He added some insurance from 40 feet at 3:49. Neither goal was touched by the Quincy keeper.

Our attitude going into the game was terrible," said Kehoe after speaking to his team. "I just got finished saying, 'I hate to say I told you so, but I told you so.'"

Kehoe feels the reason for his team's recent mental lapse is the game last Thursday against Granite South. "I don't know whether we feel everyone's going lie down for us or the South game drained us mentally and physically. All I know is that we'd better get our act together."

North is at home today (Thursday) against tough Hazelwood Central, the team that handed the Steelers their worst defeat ever last season, 7-0. "If we don't get our heads turned around, the same thing could happen to us again," said Kehoe.

Junior varsity action will begin at 4 p.m., with varsity around 5:30.

Steelers 1st—barely

GRANITE CITY — Despite losing their first game of the season to the number two team in last week's poll, the Granite City North Steelers find themselves in top of the Press-Record Soccer Coaches' poll this week for the fourth week in a row. But not by much.

North, which was a unanimous choice for 1st last week, edged second place Collinsville by one point this week. The top spot comes to North even though it lost at Collinsville 2-1 Saturday night. The Steelers got three first place votes. The Kahoks got two.

Granite City South brings up the third spot in the poll for the fourth straight week, giving it a "Big Three, Little Seven" appearance, after losing to North 1-0 last week on penalty kicks. South's Warriors reeled off three straight wins to take the championship of the Parkway West Tournament Saturday.

Belleville west, after beating Collinsville 2-1 early last week rose from 5th to 4th. Alton and Cahokia (7th last week) are tied for 5th with Quincy Senior just one point behind them.

North and South will each host Missouri schools today (Thursday). North will face Hazelwood Central at 4 p.m., while South faces powerful Rosary High at 8 p.m.

At South, the junior varsity game will start at 6:30 p.m. Between games, a special ceremony dedicating the new lights at South Sports Complex will take place.

Saturday, North travels to Edwardsville for Gateway East Conference game. South will host Collinsville next Tuesday.

WOODROME OLDSMOBILE'S PLAYER OF THE WEEK

He's a Steeler for all seasons

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North soccer player Bob Batey is "Steeler for all seasons." Not only does he dazzle opponents on the soccer field with his ball control and physical strength, he also plays basketball and baseball.

Batey scored four important goals for North during the past week. Last Thursday, he scored the winning goal on a sudden-death penalty kick against Granite City South as his squad came out on top 1-0. Monday, he scored three goals from 30 feet out or more in leading the Steelers to a 5-3 victory over Quincy Senior High.

For those goals and his hustling play, even during North's first loss of the year 2-1 at Collinsville Saturday, Batey has been selected as the Woodrome Player of the Week.

Batey is also a guard for the basketball Steelers and a shortstop on Bob Stegenger's North baseball team. He and soccer teammate Mike Robertson are two thirds of a dangerous double-play combination when Robertson dons a Steeler baseball uniform and plays third base.

The Player of the Week is selected by the Press-Record sports staff each week. Other athletes nominated for the honor this week were North goalie Tracy Hickam, Granite South goalie Tony Pierce and teammate David Fernandez and Granite South football players Doug Spalding and Lee Heubner.

Commentary

A tie-breaking idea is offered

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record

The difference between winning and losing, we've been told so often, is a matter of inches. The difference between winning and tying though, is a less definite distance. A typical game measures talent, execution, sometimes luck. The better man wins. Nice and neat.

But a tie gums up the machinery. No winner, no loser. No better man, no point in continuing.

When each team scores the same number of points, the old thrill of victory and agony of defeat both turn into sort of the ho-hum of equality.

Face it, people — athletes, coaches, fans — like their sports in either black or white, not a dingy gray of a tie. So along those lines, the rules-makers of high school sports have come up with some ways to give the people what they want, a clear winner and loser.

Two cases for illustration: The week before last, Granite City North's football team spent about an hour-and-a-half battling Roxana to a 7-7 tie. Obviously neither team's offense was very effective, probably because defensive units played outstanding games. It was the kind of hard-hitting effort that makes coaches beam with pride and opposing running backs gasp for breath.

But when the final whistle shrieked, all that filtered down to eight plays — four for each team — to make ten yards each.

North managed a field goal in its series, and Roxana came up with a touchdown. But the post game activities accomplished its purpose. Roxana won 13-10.

Less than a week later, the sport was different, but the situation the same. It was another one of the series of the Granite City North-Granite City South soccer games. And again, both teams played to the end of the regulation time tied at one goal each.

But soccer, possibly because of the physical demands, allows the rules-makers more creativity. First, if needed, two 10-minute overtime periods are played. If there is still no winner, a series of penalty-type kicks are used, where opposing players take turns one-on-one with the goalie. Sort of resembles fish in a barrel.

North and South came down to the penalty kicks. A controversial decision by the referee gave North the win, when it scored one more goal than South in the rounds of kicks. Somehow, these methods of determining a winner seem too contrived and arbitrary. The reward doesn't match the effort.

Realizing that any kind of tie-breaking system would be equally arbitrary, there is another major flaw in these designs. The team that goes second in either the soccer or football tie-breaking systems is at a serious disadvantage. The pressure is clearly on the team that goes first, because the second team has to merely better whatever went before. I suggest something to change that. Why not play the tie-breaker before the game instead of after? Of course, this would be in most cases, extra effort for nothing. The majority of games, after all, don't end in ties. But in those cases where there is a tie, the game would end with a sure-fire winner.

If the score ended in a tie the winner would be the winner of the previously completed tie-breaker.

Late in a close game, the loser of the tie-breaker would know just what it takes for the win, and the team who won the tie-breaker would know what was needed to preserve victory — in this case a tie score at the end of the game.

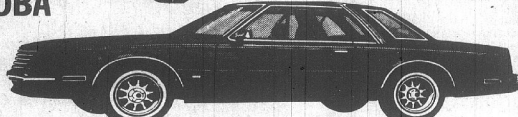

I know this is pretty absurd, but it shuffles an imperfect system and its effects from one extreme to the other, and probably creates more problems than it solves.

Madison hosts Assumption

By PETE HAYES Sports Editor of the Press-Record

MADISON — Madison High football coach Charlie Steptoe reflected on a moment. He pondered the question.

The question was, "How does Madison (6-4) prepare for a game with powerful East St. Louis Assumption (5-0)?" Steptoe's answer was not too earth shattering.

"We're having problems," he said. "Of course, that's not unusual for me to say. We have to work on the fundamentals."

The two teams will meet Friday in Madison at 7:30 p.m. in a Quad County Conference game.

Assumption, ranked fourth in the latest Press-Record coaches poll of small schools, is an awesome foe. Jim Monken's Pioneers have made a habit of running up large scores. In fact, they beat Breese Central 48-0 last week. Central handled Madison 52-0 earlier this season.

Madison's Trojans have scored just one touchdown in four games while giving up a total of 240 points.

Madison is coming off a weekend off, which Steptoe said was a welcome relief. He said his team would use the time off to concentrate on some finer points of football, coach this side of the Polo Grounds preaches about. Fundamentals.

"We looked at the films of our last game (a 55-0 loss to Columbia). There were some people who just didn't do their jobs. We didn't block a well."

Steptoe will start Robert Johnson at quarterback in order to have a strong arm at the position. "He's been throwing pretty well in practice," he said. "I think we can score through the air, if we can only give him some time to throw the ball."

Monken said a game against a team like Madison would be a challenge. "We feel we should go in there and handle them pretty easily," he said. "But I don't like for our guys to look at past anybody. Madison has its pride."

"We have been trying to take these games one at a time. There's no other way to do it."

Assumption handled Madison last season 50-0 in East St. Louis. That was when Madison had a quarterback by the name of Carlyn Jackson and a fullback named James Healy. They have both graduated.

Running back Kevin Jones, who scored five touchdowns against Madison last season, is back. So is Tommy Davis, a running back who scored three TDs against Central last week.

"We're spreading it around this season," said Monken. "That is, we've got several guys who've scored quite a bit for us. We don't like to concentrate on just one."

"Jones has 10 touchdowns this season. Davis has seven. So has Bob Johnson."

Assumption's quarterbacking duties will be handled by Johnson. Monken said he feels his team is starting its season this week. "Right now is the time during a season teams start to get tired and complacent," he said. "The way we look at this, we've got eight games to go (to win the state championship).

Scroggins in law school

The Legal Careers Advisory Committee at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., which develops law-related programs at the school, has announced that 18 Westminster graduates, approximately 15 percent of the last graduating class, began law school this fall.

Westminster sent its graduates to all four law schools in the state of Missouri and to a total of 12 schools across the country.

Leon Scroggins of Granite City has been accepted by the law school at the University of North Carolina.

When asked why a relatively small, liberal arts college such as Westminster was sending such a high number of its graduates to law school, Dr. David Collins, associate professor of English and chairman of the legal careers advisory committee, credited the nature of the education available at Westminster, the work of the Admissions Department, and the effort of the Legal Career Advisory Committee.

"As a brief chat with the dean of any law school, or a quick glance at the catalog of any law school will tell you, there is no better preparation for the study of law than a solid, broadly-based liberal arts education that provides a cultural base in which the law school can build."

About student recruitment at Westminster, Dr. Collins noted that "for some years now the admissions, counselors have been actively seeking out serious, professionally-minded students and bringing them to Westminster. Moreover, recognizing that the growing number of applications to law school was making admission more difficult, the college several years ago formed the pre-law advisory committee to advise students headed in that direction."

Homecoming programs at Carbondale

The Jazz Age will return to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale this week after a 50-year absence. Charleston dancing, old movies, costume contests and SIUC Daily Egyptian headline from the 1920s will help set the "roaring twenties" theme for homecoming on Saturday.

The football Salukis will face Missouri Valley Conference rival Wichita State at 2 p.m. in McAndrew Stadium. A pre-game show featuring the SIUC Marching Salukis band will start at 1:30 p.m., and instruments and music will be provided for band alumni who want to play with the group.

Reserved seats in the alumni section can be purchased for $6 from the Alumni Office, 2179, Faner Hall, SIUC, Carbondale, Ill. 62901. Checks are made payable to the SIUC Alumni Association.

Van Morrison, fresh from an overseas tour and a new album recording date ("Into the Music"), will perform Saturday at 8 p.m. at the SIUC Arena. The former leader and songwriter for "Them," a popular 1960s singing group, is best known for his hit song, "Brown-Eyed Girl." Alumni may purchase tickets from the Alumni Office; tickets are $7.50 for chair and floor bleachers and $6.50 for upper-level bleachers.

All kind of special activities are scheduled for SIUC alumni during the weekend.

Illinois State Comptroller Roland Burris; Roy R. Bryant, the first director of the SIUC placement center; Elizabeth C. Meehan, retired assistant professor of education, and Billie Jean Moore, head women's basketball coach at the University of California, Los Angeles, will be awarded 1979 alumni achievement award at a buffet luncheon at 11:15 a.m. Saturday. The great teacher award also will be presented at that time.

A reception in the Student Center Ballrooms will be held after the football game to honor all classes ending in "4" and "9" plus the class of 1978.

Other special events during Homecoming weekend include the SIUC Alumni Association legislative council Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Student Center Auditorium, and the Sphinx Club 40th anniversary reunion brunch Sunday morning at 10 a.m. in the Student Center.

Many SIUC academic departments and constituent societies will sponsor get-togethers during Homecoming weekend. A complete schedule of activities can be obtained Saturday at alumni registration sites throughout the Student Center and McAndrew Stadium.

Final briefs filed on replacing dam

Final briefs have been filed, the last arguments made, and finally, after more than five years, the fate of a new Lock and Dam 26 rests with U.S. District Court Judge Charles Ritchey. His ruling, almost certain to be challenged, is expected by Oct. 25.

That is when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District, said it will announce the winner of bids to begin shoring up the Illinois side of the Mississippi River in preparation for a new lock two miles below the present facility at Alton.

As defendant-intervenor, the Association for the Improvement of the Mississippi River (AIMR), Oct. 3 submitted its final documents titled: "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law" and "Post-Trial Memorandum."

The first is a 109-page document outlining in detail the six major issues brought up at the trial; the second is a 22-page summary of the case. Attorneys for the plaintiffs—environmentalists and railroads—filed their briefs Sept. 28, and filed a rebuttal to the government and intervenor's case Oct. 5.

The AIMR argued as follows:

Programmatic Issue. Scope—Is the scope of the EIS (environmental impact statement) sufficient to support the project authorized or is the Corps required under NEPA (National Environmental Protection Act) to prepare a broader programmatic EIS?

Summary. The single-lock facility authorized by P.L. 95-502 is a limited one; it is not part of a larger regional or systemic proposal (like the proposed second lock). Hence, the Corps is not required to prepare a programmatic statement on this basis.

Environmental Impact. Does the EIS adequately discuss the environmental impacts of the project? Under the rule of reason, an EIS need not be exhaustive to the point of discussing all possible details bearing on the proposed action.

An EIS is adequate if it presents and analyzes then available information and contains sufficient information to enable the agency's decisionmakers to take a "hard look" at environmental factors.

The Corps has already conducted four studies on backwater sedimentation. It is not required to conduct further expensive, long-term hydraulic studies.

NEPA does not require quantification of all impacts. Although the Corps was unable to quantify the exact proportion of backwater sedimentation, it was able to conclude that the proportion of tow-induced sedimentation was very small in relation to sedimentation resulting from natural processes.

Alternatives Issue. Has the Corps considered alternatives to the project authorized in P.L. 95-502 and does the EIS adequately discuss these alternatives?

The EIS may not be challenged simply because of the possibility that new studies might produce additional information.

Further studies would merely reflect variations of the rehabilitation alternative and would fail to address the fundamental disadvantage of that alternative, namely:

1. Expense due to need for cofferdams and continuation of traffic.
2. Risk at a crucial facility that improved techniques would not prove effective when used in combination to address multiple problems.
3. Higher maintenance costs, and less flexibility, i.e., rehabilitation would foreclose the option of any expansion.

The authorized project is designed to meet two problems: the deterioration of the present facility and inadequate capacity of that facility to handle existing traffic.

Hence, the Corps was not required under NEPA to consider the programmatic "alternative" of investing the entire cost of the replacement facility in the railroads and making no investment in the waterway.

Substantive Review Issue. Is the Corps action in proceeding with the project substantially reviewable under Section 101 of NEPA and, if such action is reviewable, has the Corps struck a balance between economic benefits and environmental costs?

It is clear from the record that the Corps' decision to implement the authorized project was not arbitrary or capricious.

The record shows the Corps has assessed project benefits and has determined that these benefits are substantial. In balancing environmental costs against economic benefits, the Corps did not ignore environmental values, nor did it give those values insufficient weight.

The Corps rationale is not only evident in the record, it is eminently reasonable.

Post-Authorization Procedure Issue. Have post-authorization planning activities complied with the Corps' internal procedures and guidelines? The Corps determination that no EIS revision or supplementation is necessary fully complies with NEPA regulations, which require the Corps to review the EIS and decide whether it is currently adequate.

The EIS was reviewed and, on Jan. 10, 1979, the chief of Engineers determined it was still adequate. Plaintiffs claim that the Corps' violation of its regulations by failing to prepare a revised EIS is really only a reformulation of the broader claim that the EIS is presently inadequate.

If the court concludes that the EIS is adequate, the Corps decision not to revise the EIS is proper.

"Secret Data" Issue. Did the Corps decisionmakers have before them and rely upon information that has not been provided plaintiffs or the court, and, if so, must such information be produced in order to make the record on review complete?

Judicial review of agency action is based on the record that is actually before the decisionmaker at the time the challenged action is taken.

That record has been provided in its entirety both to plaintiffs and the court. The names of barge carriers who provided confidential rate information are not part of that record and this court has already ruled that plaintiffs are not entitled to obtain these names.

The fact that some of the Corps' rate information was derived from confidential sources goes to the reliability of that data and the reasonableness of the Corps' use of that data. It does not mean the Corps has based its decision on "secret" information, AIMR contends.

Chastain earns top Moose honor

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Edward E. Chastain, 2512 Center St., will receive the Pilgrim Degree, highest degree of the Loyal Order of Moose, in ceremonies at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The robing ceremony will take place at Granite City Moose Lodge 272, 19th and Adams streets.

Oliver J. Baker of Belleville, Pilgrim robing governor for Moose District 10 and a member of East St. Louis Moose Lodge 4, will confer the degree and formally place the robe on Chastain.

Chastain is the first member of Lodge 272 to receive the Pilgrim degree in 18 years.

Only two other Lodge 272 members have been so honored.

The late Harry Oberlin was the last to receive the degree 18 years ago. The late John McKeeth was similarly honored some years earlier.

Chastain has been an active member of Moose Lodge 272 since July 1944.

He served as governor in 1965-66 and in 1967-68.

He also held the offices of junior governor for three years, prelate two years, treasurer one year and sergeant-at-arms two years.

Chastain is widely known for his role as Moose civic affairs chairman.

As chairman, he was responsible for organizing and supervising the annual Moose Halloween parade through the streets of Downtown Granite City for 12 years.

In past years, Chastain also arranged the children's pet parade, another youth oriented event sponsored by the local Moose lodge.

He also held office at the Moose state level, serving on the state ritual committee concerned with competitive ritual teams.

He also was District 10 ritual chairman for two years and district civic affairs chairman for another two years.

While chairman of the Granite City ritual staff for four years, he was involved in the group winning state awards.

He was twice state champion in ritual work as past governor and twice won state championship honors for ritual oratory.

In honor of Chastain achieving the Pilgrim degree, a class of 30 new members will be enrolled into Moose Lodge 272 at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The class will be dedicated in his name.

Degree members will attend in full regalia and a buffet will be served to lodge members, visiting Moose representatives and friends of the honored guest.

Boyd Presley, a past governor of the Granite City lodge and current District 10 civic affairs chairman, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Prior to retiring in 1977, Chastain was employed 40 years at the Laclede Steel plant in Madison.

He and his wife, Iris May, are the parents of five daughters.

Their children are Mrs. Brenda Persinger of Rochester, Mich., Mrs. Judith Golub of North Hampton, Mass., Mrs. Doris Harrison of Baldwin City, Kan., and Denise and Jane Chastain, who are at home.

Mrs. Chastain is active in Women of the Moose Chapter 247 of Granite City and is a member of the College of Regents.

It was first announced publicly that Chastain was a recipient of the Pilgrim Degree of Merit during religious services held June 2 in the House of God at Mooschen, Ill.

Granite City Moose Lodge 272 celebrated its 69th anniversary in May 1978.

For more than half of that time, a spokesman said today, Chastain has dedicated his efforts toward the objectives of the Loyal Order of Moose and Moose Lodge 272 and, specifically, Moose activities which benefit youth of the Quad-Cities.

Arrest five in skirmish

Five men have been arrested in connection with a disturbance in the 2100 block of Nameoki Road at 4:10 a.m. Wednesday.

Grant Dawson, 20, of 2323 Nameoki Road, told police he had been beaten by several men and he pointed out a group in the driveway at the home of Larry W. Mayes, 22, of 2106 Nameoki Road.

He approached Frank L. Mills, 20, of 2429 E. 25th St., contended he was one of those who beat him, and then allegedly struck Mills in the face with a fist.

Dawson then allegedly grabbed Mayes and wrestled him to the ground until police separated them.

Arrested and charged with disorderly conduct were Dawson, Mayes, Mills, Charles H. Freiner Jr., 23, of 2106 Nameoki Road, and David E. Jordan, 19, of 2014 Edwardsville Road.

At 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, after Dawson had been released on bond, there was another call to Mayes' home and Mayes alleged Dawson had been trespassing and causing trouble on his property.

'Big Oil Protest Day' in Venice on Oct. 17

The Venice City Council at a meeting Tuesday evening passed a resolution officially declaring Wednesday, Oct. 17, "Big Oil Protest Day" in Venice.

A nationwide drive is being sponsored by the National Conference of Black Mayors. The resolution states that citizens are unduly paying high prices for gasoline, heating oil, natural gas and electricity.

The resolution charges the president and Congress with being negligent in protecting the citizenry from oil company "ripoffs and profiteering."

Citizens are being encouraged to write and telephone members of the U. S. Congress on the designated protest day.

The council approved a building permit for Luther H. Turnage, 812 Third St., Venice, for a tool shed in the amount of $550.

Mayor Tyrone Echols read a letter from Bo Beckman Ford, Inc., notifying the city that the auto agency is discontinuing the "Go Bo" vans for senior citizens. Venice will be returning its van.

The McKinley Toll Bridge report for September showed monthly vehicle crossings of 291,490 for a daily average of 10,410.

Mayor Echols reported that a committee of mayors, headed by Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, will meet to discuss the Bi-State Transit System.

"It appears the state legislature will not be funding the bus system like it has in the past and some additional funds will be needed for the cities on the Illinois side of the river, if services are to continue."

"A committee has been formed to study this situation and try and find a solution," Echols said. "I would like for the citizens to get trash barrels. We're running short handed in the city with the manpower cutback. We do not make any extra charge for trash pickup and I think the citizens should do their part and obtain a trash barrel," Echols said.

Alderman Victor A. Valentine Sr. thanked the people of Venice for allowing him and other council members to attend a municipal convention in Chicago last week.

Alderman John Ervin said he attended several meetings on cable television and he learned a lot, particularly that in some cities cable television companies are paying five and a half percent to the cities and not the three percent Venice has been offered.

Recycled buildings find new lives

By DAVID MAXFIELD

Smithsonian News Service
A brewery in Texas is now a museum; a dairy barn in Missouri, a shopping center. A torpedo factory in Virginia is today a prosperous arts center; an old slaughter house in Manhattan, a spacious studio and residence. Throughout the nation, new uses are being found for old buildings once threatened by the wrecker's ball.

The trend which spread rapidly through cities in the 1970s is firmly rooted in the American preservation tradition. But the development differs dramatically from the earlier emphasis on restoring buildings to show how they once looked and were used.

"Preservation does not, and emphatically should not, mean merely restoration," according to Barbara Lee Diamondstein, creator of an exhibit about reborn buildings prepared by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service.

"Probably the single most important aspect of the preservation movement is the recycling of old buildings by adapting them to uses different from the ones for which they were originally intended."

The recycling phenomenon is viewed as an outgrowth of a number of factors: disenchantment with urban renewal programs that bulldozed entire neighborhoods and replaced them with housing projects lacking any sense of community. The march of social activists against indiscriminate leveling of landmark buildings. A broad-based interest in preservation, and displeasure with modern architecture's often impersonal, brutal new buildings.

Despite the successes of the recycling movement, there are several dangers on the horizon spotted by Diamondstein and other critics.

Some preservation projects, to their eyes, have become too chic or too cute, burdened by too many curio shops that quickly tarnish an area's historic appeal.

Other projects are misdirected: "We have to fight constantly against the desire to make a lovely 1890 town look like a 17th Century New England village," James Biddle, director of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, says.

And as property values and taxes rise in still other areas following restoration, the poor and elderly who have lived in the neighborhoods often are forced out.

A third concern is the possibility of over-preserving — protecting a building no matter what its value.

Related to this is the matter of preservation costs. According to the American Institute of Architects, renovation "can often be carried out at lower cost than tearing down existing structures."

But it cannot be assumed, one planner for large Washington, D.C. developer cautions, that either new construction or rehabilitation is cheaper, because land values, materials and labor cost vary so widely.

"Preservation by adaptive use is not always the answer," this planner states, "although it always should be considered."

Projects where preservation was chosen include these examples: Industrial and Commercial Structures Recycled.

A pioneer in adapting old buildings for new uses, San Francisco's Ghirardelli Square, a former chocolate factory converted over a decade ago to shops, offices and restaurants, has inspired new adaptations in other American cities.

Ghirardelli's mix of small specialty shops, for example, helped lead Boston planners to their decision to renovate Faneuil Hall Marketplace, a complex of food services, retail space and offices.

In Alexandria, Va., a dreary, wartime torpedo factory located in the heart of the town's historic district has been given new life as a successful arts center, where 200 painters, sculptors, photographers and other artists maintain studios visited each year by 350,000 shoppers and tourists.

In Brooklyn, N.Y., an ugly foundry was converted to a 532-bed teaching hospital, believed to be the first hospital recycled from an industrial plant.

Entire blocks of neglected commercial structures are being renovated in other cities. Corning, N.Y., and Galveston, Texas, are among those that have revitalized decaying business areas by reclaiming architecturally valuable 19th Century buildings. In the process, each has won historic district status, plus vital new business growth.

New York City's Soho District, the largest concentration of 19th Century cast-iron front buildings, also has taken on new life as the former factories, warehouses and showrooms are turned into contemporary studios, residential lofts, apartments and businesses. This area, according to Diamondstein, has become a model of adaptive reuse for sturdy but under-used warehouses across the country.

Just north of Soho, in Greenwich Village, artist Lowell Nesbitt found the spaciousness of an old slaughterhouse ideal for his studio and home. In the West, the San Antonio Museum of Art is transforming the old Lane Star Brewery into exhibition galleries and offices.

Churches to Restaurants, Homes.

Converting churches to preservation headquarters or private residences are unique adaptive uses for old structures.

For sheer surprise, there is the one-time synagogue in Salt Lake City, now a restaurant specializing in food from six nations. These are the unique details: tables are located in the nave and the arched balcony, the latter once used as classrooms; a bar is found in the former choir loft; the altar backdrop remains in place, but a 3-foot stage was built for nightly chamber music.

Homes to Offices.

GRANITE CITY (III.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, Oct. 11, 1979—29

Museums, Hotels. Large mansions once occupied by the wealthy are valued today by museums and other organizations for their unique character, architectural detail and adaptable space.

The New York State Bar Association, for example, is headquartered in a row of elegant 19th Century town houses in Albany, N.Y.; the Smithsonian's Cooper-Hewitt Museum in the old Carnegie Mansion on New York City's Fifth Avenue, and the Fine Arts Foundation of Fort Wayne, Ind., in a stone house built in 1852. The 18th Century Edward Mowbray house in New York is now an Off-Track Betting office, an appropriate new use: the first owner's avocation was breeding horses.

Hotels to Banks; Banks to Apartments.

First a fort, then a hotel, a 157-year-old New Mexico adobe is now the home of the Citizens Bank of Las Cruces.

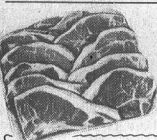

But the nation's third oldest surviving bank building, vacant for years in Alexandria, Va., is being turned into apartments as well as space for a new branch bank.

And in Jersey City, N.J., a former Romanesque-style bank will house luxury condominiums, complete with a sauna located in the old vault.

Global issues for area senior citizens

In a fast-moving world, international issues have an immediate and personal effect on people's lives. To help keep current, senior citizens are being invited to attend a Global Issues lecture series at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville beginning Wednesday, Oct. 17.

Classes will meet from 10 until 11:30 a.m. in the Mississippi Room of the University Center. Sponsored by the Metro-East Institute of Lifetime Learning, the entire series of weekly classes will be offered for $1.

First session will feature Rasool Hashmi, associate professor of economics at SIUE, discussing "The Middle East and the U.S." It will consider areas of mutual interest shared by the U.S. and countries of the Middle East. Examples are the energy problems faced by the West and the need for Western technology expertise in economic development of the Middle East.

Other speakers and their topics will include: "Salt II Ratification" by Ron "Environmental Behavior Influence: A Psychological View" by John McCall, professor of psychology. The Institute of Lifetime Learning is a venture supported by SIUE, Belleville Area College, Lewis and Clark Community College, and State Community College, as well as area chapters of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Multi-media entertainment

An evening of entertainment combining at least five art forms is scheduled Oct. 17 at the Communications Building theater at 8:15 p.m. The concert is free, and the public is invited to attend.

The program will be divided into three segments, opening with a series of songs composed by Stephen Brown, assistant professor in the SIUE School of Fine Arts and Communications. Assisting Brown will be Melanie Asadorian, Granite City, a senior at the university majoring in music, and Steven Schenkel, an SIUE alumnus, guitarist. Miss Asadorian is a soprano, a work inspired by a novel by the English novelist, Virginia Woolf. It reflects her impressions of the city during the late 1880s, and the music was written by Brown while he was visiting in London last summer.

A second segment of the program will be a dance at the university. Providing the music for the solo work will be Kent Perry, professor of music at the university, violinist; and Karen Rogers, assistant professor of music, pianist.

The work is entitled, "Two Fragments." The composer is Yehuda Yannay. Made possible through a grant from the SIUE Office of Research and Projects, the third segment finale will incorporate the art forms of music, dance, art, and film and slide presentations, the title being "Interregnum."

Each of the art forms will dominate the stage environment equally. At times during the concert, dancers will perform against a background film and slide projections of the dancers while a rock band provides background music.

Meetings on sewer grants

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is hosting a series of information meetings to explain the public participation requirements for communities obtaining federal funds for planning wastewater treatment facilities. This new federal requirement applies to communities that have received or applied for a Step 1 planning grant since Feb. 16, IEPA Director Michael P. Maury says.

In this area, a meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 16, in Collinsville at the Holiday Inn, I-70 and Route 157.

Technicians from IEPA will review the grant program, explain federal requirements for public participation in the planning of treatment facilities, and suggest to area officials how they may implement a program to obtain support and cooperation for local-level financing. This discussion should be of particular interest to communities planning to apply for a grant, comments Thomas Wallin, manager of the IEPA grants program.

Current grant programs emphasize 85 percent funding for alternate or innovative systems. This refers to local management of individual and collective septic systems, regional systems serving more than one community, and other facilities suited to small communities with small population and limited financing capability.

Discussion of the grant program will be shared by James Leinicke, Ronald Drainer and Albert Garver for the grant administration section of IEPA's Springfield office of the Division of Water Pollution Control. Explaining public participation requirements will be a specialist from that unit of Public and Intergovernmental Programs. These include Dawn Wrobel of Springfield, James Pendowski of Marion and Victor Crivello of Rockford.

The meeting will be open to the public without charge and no reservation is necessary. City officials, consulting engineers and those involved in construction or management of sewer systems are being especially urged to attend.

Vocational service at M-V Rotary club

The Madison-Venice Rotary Club will celebrate Vocational Service Week, a week dedicated to the idea of the worthiness of all useful occupations, Oct. 14-20.

Vocational service in Rotary has been a part of the organization since Rotary's inception over 75 years ago.

Guest speakers for the weekly luncheon at the Madison Recreation Center, Oct. 17, at 12:15 p.m., will be John Rush, principal of Venice High School, and Dan Lostencki, principal of Madison High School. They will discuss the vocational programs provided Madison and Venice students.

In addition to the regular meeting during Vocational Service Week for Rotary Club, the Madison-Venice Rotary provides a "CAEPR" Day (Career Awareness Experiences Provided by Rotarians) which provides an opportunity to 11th and 12th grade students for "on the job visits" with members of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club.

Other objectives of CAEPR are to provide resource people who will talk to and with the students and to encourage more interaction between Rotarians and the occupational staff of the Madison and Venice School Districts.

CAEPR Day will be in April, 1980 and participating students will be luncheon guests of President Jack Lee and the Madison-Venice Rotarian.

Bill A. Davis, 18, of 4022 Pontoon Road, and Randall J. Roberts, 18, of 3821 John Glenn Drive, both of Pontoon Beach, were charged with possession of marijuana and contributing to the delinquency of a minor after they were arrested at 10 p.m. Sunday in the parking lot of Grigsby Junior High School.

Police said they noticed a maroon car backed up to the school and investigated to find a young man and two juvenile girls in the car and another young man standing outside of the car.

The three in the car were ordered out and the man who had been standing outside the car allegedly ran around the corner of the school building where he was stopped by an officer who was checking the school building.

It was alleged a plastic bag of marijuana was found inside the maroon auto. The juvenile girls were released to their parents on notices to appear before juvenile officers. Bond was set at $70 each for the young men.

Chicago gets "star" treatment in TV movie

Chicago and vicinity get star treatment in "Flesh and Blood," a special movie to be broadcast in two parts, Sunday, Oct. 14, and Tuesday, Oct. 16, on CBS.

The man most responsible was director of photography, Vilmos Zsigmond, winner of an Academy Award for the spectacular cinematography of "Close Encounters of the Third Kind." Zsigmond was also nominated last year for his work on "The Deer Hunter."

"Flesh and Blood" is an urban story, the tale of a young tough, Bobby Fallon (Tom Berenger), who struggles to become a heavyweight contender while dealing with volatile family problems. In Pete Hamill's best-seller, Fallon is from Brooklyn and does most of his training in Manhattan. For the TV film, the setting is transposed to the Windy City.

There were a number of reasons, producer Gerald W. Abrams explained. "This is a film that required extensive locations, not only on the city streets, but in a prison, a major fight arena, small-town fight clubs and a gym. We also had to do some shooting in Las Vegas. We had a long schedule for a television project, but also a series of complicated moves and set ups, and a large cast and crew to transport and house."

Abrams said that they were looking for in Chicago. Not only did they have Chicago, from its rundown neighborhoods to its luxury high-rises and busy commercial districts, but they also had two prisons they could use — Cook County Jail and Joliet State Penitentiary — open farmland, and a major arena in Champaign that could be set up to double for both Madison Square Garden and the Las Vegas Convention Center.

"There was an artistic reason for the choice as well," Abrams added. "Chicago is a city that has not been seen that often on television. There was a lot we could explore visually—that was new."

Fallon is a brawler in the bars of Chicago who lands in jail with Kirk (Denzel Washington) after taking on two city cops. At Kirk's urging, he joins the prison boxing team as a con to land "easy time" and perhaps an early release. A fight manager, Gus Caputo (John Cassavetes), sees him in action and recognizes the young boxer's potential. Released from prison, Bobby's efforts to develop his skills are complicated by his need to put his emotional life in order. The major threat to his career and to his romance with a television reporter (Kristin Griffith) is his relationship with his mother, Kate (Suzanne Pleshette).

Griffith and Berenger

Kate still carries a torch for the dashing barroom king, Jack Fallon, who deserted her when Bobby was 6 years old. Since then, her only stable relationship has been with her son. When Jack Fallon re-enters the picture, the emotional strain brings the young boxer close to his breaking point at a crucial point in his career.

Zsigmond's cameras followed Fallon, his trainer, mother, girlfriend and best friend from the North Side to the South Side of Chicago, from the Windy City gym where there were real fighters in training, to Cook County Jail, where inmates were used as extras. They shot in a foundry and a television station, a Legion Hall and neighborhood bars.

In all, a month was spent in Illinois before the production company moved on to Las Vegas and then a wind-up in Los Angeles studios.

New carpet is almost like a new home

Ah, what is nicer than new carpet? It is almost as good as getting a whole new house, and not nearly as expensive. But it sure is a lot of work.

I had been wanting a new carpet for my living room for two or three years. I spent most of that time hoping to strike oil in my back yard to pay for it.

Well, good ol' Burt the landlord finally came through for me, putting up most of the money for the new fluff for the feet. Such a nice man.

Anyway, I took my bankroll and set out to find carpeting. It had to be just right, since I would have to look at it for a long time.

Of course, I had some idea of what I wanted, but I never knew there was so much of what I wanted around.

I saw, in my mind's eye, my new living room carpeted in green shag, red sculpture, and even astroruff. The choices were endless.

What a decision to make! I found a few that were a little too wild, with prices to match.

There was one plaid that was a little weird. I really didn't think it would have gone with my flowered drapes. Besides which, it was red and black and looked too much like a giant checkerboard.

Then I found it. The carpet to make my house a showplace.

It was beautiful—a gold short shag. I was in love. I wanted to take it with me and have it put in that very day.

It wasn't too long before it was in. It looked so good. I moved furniture around on it until I had the living room looking like someone else's house.

One thing I have always done whenever I have added anything new is to clean. And clean I did. I turned the entire house upside down and inside out. The whole house had to look as fine as the new rug.

I worked for days, cleaning closets, cupboards, even the kids' room. I began to wonder why I wanted the carpet. I was working too hard.

But it is done. The house looks great, absolutely great. A new carpet is a wonderful thing.

And I'll be able to enjoy it for years, just as soon as I get over the exhaustion.

Raises for legal staff

Salary increases for three of the city's four attorneys were provided in an ordinance adopted last week by the Granite City Council.

The ordinance establishes a monthly salary of $1,519 for Lance Callis, city attorney, up from $1,400, and a monthly salary of $1,085 for Irvin Slate Jr., assistant city attorney, up from $1,000.

Casper Nighoghossian's monthly salary was raised from $540 to $585, while the salary of John Papa was left unchanged at $625. Nighoghossian is a condemnation attorney for the city. Papa is board attorney, representing the city's various boards and commissions.

Papa's salary was left unchanged for the present pending further readjustments which are expected in the near future, the aldermen were told.

The aldermen also enacted an ordinance transferring to permanent city employment

Nedwin Tapp, a civilian police dispatcher who had been employed under the Manpower program.

Tapp's employment under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act expired last week. The city will assume the full salary cost of $834 per month.

The youngsters are students at area public, parochial and private schools or people who have been recommended by public agencies.

Sponsored by the Illinois State Board of Education and SIUE, in cooperation with the National Committee of the Arts for the Handicapped youth with opportunities to share their works and accomplishments with parents and friends. Students and visitors to the campus will be involved in various "hands-on" experiences in the areas of music, drama, dance, art, creative writing, movement and other activities related to the arts.

Primary purpose of the program is to demonstrate the impact of arts in developing artistic responsiveness and general learning achievement among handicapped students.

Argument ends in two charges

Fred W. Beyrau, 27, of 3101 Jill Ave., was arrested in the 2100 block of Cleveland Boulevard at 4:35 a.m. Saturday and charged with battery and disorderly conduct.

According to a report, the battery incident occurred when Beyrau and Debra Costello, 2146 Cleveland Blvd., were driving home from St. Louis and an argument ensued.

Beyrau allegedly stopped the auto on Madison Avenue and began striking the woman. They continued driving on, but she alleged Beyrau became "very violent" and she jumped from the vehicle.

She told police that Beyrau stopped the car and put her back inside and then drove her home where the argument resumed.

This time, she alleged, Beyrau struck her in the face and head several times and tore the telephone from the wall when she tried to call police.

He also threw a television set on the floor and tore the screen from the front door. In response to a disturbance call from another resident of the 2100 block of Cleveland, officers went to that location at 4 a.m., but found the troublemaker had gone.

Police returned at 4:39 a.m. when a second call was received saying that a man was screaming and yelling in an abusive voice.

At this point, Beyrau was arrested. Police interviewed Miss Costello, 23, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was being treated for bruises to the legs and arms, abrasions to the left foot and lower back, a bloody nose and pains in the neck, shoulders and head.

She was released after treatment and came with her father to police headquarters and signed a complaint against Beyrau.

Electricity plus Solar Energy produces low-cost grain drying on an Illinois farm

Steve Funk with the solar heat collector he built on the South side of his home.

Steve Funk found a way to combine electric and solar energy to cut costs and increase efficiency on his 432-acre farm near Bloomington. He uses the electric-solar energy combination for grain drying and home heating.

Working with representatives of the University of Illinois, Mr.

Funk developed a system using an electric fan to circulate air through bins covered with solar heat collectors. For comparison, Mr. Funk used a continuous-flow fossil fuel dryer the same season. It cost less to dry with an electric fan and solar heat.

Mr. Funk has also used solar energy plus an electric fan for home heating since 1976. With added insulation, the solar heat system cut his fuel oil bills by as much as 50% in one year.

For more information about solar energy, contact your energy use advisor. Or write to the Farm Service Department, Illinois Power, Decatur, Illinois 62525.

Increasing competition for entry into School of Law

The new class of first-year students at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale's six-year-old School of Law is the brightest and most mature yet, according to the school's associate dean.

David C. Johnson said the grade-point averages and Law School Admission Test (LSAT) scores of SIUC applicants have steadily increased, while LSAT scores have gone down nationally. He credits the increase in the caliber of applicants to the progress made in constructing a new law school building.

Some students had shied away from SIUC earlier when it appeared the school might have trouble getting funding for its new building, he said.

Construction of the new building began in August and is expected to be completed in time for fall semester classes in 1981. Once the building is finished, SIUC will be able to admit up to 150 law students each fall.

This fall, 100 students — 72 men and 28 women — entered the SIUC School of Law, selected from approximately 600 applicants. Johnson said he expects the impact of the building construction to be felt more next fall, with a substantial increase in applications.

Johnson said he cannot explain the increase in students to 30 years old accepted at the law school this fall, but said their maturity and extra experience will help them.

"During the first month or so, they may find the adjustments to law school difficult, having been out of school for awhile, many of them have family responsibilities.

"For the most part, however, since they know what they want and where they're going, they are more settled students and perform well," he said.

Oct. 14, 1978
A garden full of roses
Of never ending sun
A valley filled with lilies
That's where our brother's gone.
A place where peace abides
And sorrow is no more
A place of everlasting love
It must be heaven's door.
The peace that he has looked for
For all these many years
The joy we're sure he has found
To replace his many tears.
The Lord will understand him
He'll take him by the hand
He'll listen to his every word
He's now in a holy land.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF STEVE FURSE, Oct. 13, 1958. Nothing can take away the love our hearts hold dear, Or erase the fond memories of our loved one, Family missed by His Family. 33 10 11

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DEAR HUSBAND, FATHER, FATHER-IN-LAW AND GRANDPA, HENRY "HEINER" BEIMFOHR, who passed away one year ago, October 13, 1978. Your loving smile and gentle touch are something we all miss so very much. Though you are gone from us Dear, you're in a better place than here. No sorrows, worries, aches or pains, you're at peace Dear, God freed you from your chains. When you left us one year ago, the wound was deep and the heartache strong, but life has gone on, we all know this is true. Never the same since we lost you. So treasure him, Lord, in Your Garden of Rest, because to us Lord, he was the best. Sadly missed by Wife, Daughter, Son-in-law, and Granddaughter. 33 10 11

SEMINAR ON U.S. INCOME TAX SAVINGS

A penny saved is still a penny earned, but for people interested in saving more than a few cents on their federal income taxes, Metropolitan College of St. Louis University has designed a one-day tax seminar. David O. Kreuter, a certified public accountant and an attorney, will conduct the seminar Monday, Oct. 15, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Clayton Inn, 7750 Carondelet, Clayton.

Areas he will cover include retirement plans and estate planning for estates under $150,000, taxation of investments, such as stocks and bonds, taxation of residences, such as the sale of homes, moving expenses and insurance credits, taxation upon death and distribution advantages in corporation, and buying and selling of small businesses.

Elderly being warned to be cautious of strangers

Granite City police are reminding elderly residents of the area not to allow strangers into their homes, since an incident which was reported Monday evening. An elderly woman who resides in the 2700 block of Washington Avenue said Monday that a young woman knocked on the door of her house Wednesday, Oct. 3, and when she answered the door, the young woman walked in, sat down on the sofa in the living room and asked the victim if she had received her Social Security check yet.

The victim said her checks are mailed directly to the bank and the intruder then asked if she could have a drink of water. The elderly woman went into another room to get the water. The young woman then asked to use the restroom and left afterward.

The victim discovered $25 had been removed from her billfold in her purse. She described the woman as being in her early 20s or late teens, about 5 feet, 3 inches tall, of medium build and having light-colored hair to her shoulders.
